COUZENS IS WINNER IN MICHIGAN PRIMARY

Avalanche of Votes for Senator in Detroit Gives Him 19,000 Lead Over Judge Tuttle.

GILLETTS WINS IN MASSACHUSETTS

Speaker of House Had Indorsement of National Chairman Butler for Senatorial Nomination.

By the Associated Press.
DETROIT, Mich., Sept. 10.—United States Senator James Couzens of Detroit apparently has been nominated by the Republicans of Michigan to succeed himself. At noon today, with 1888 precincts of the 17th in the State reporting, he had a lead of 19,000 over his nearest rival, Federal Judge Arthur J. Tuttle, also of Detroit.

The vote stood: Couzens, 222,816; H. H. Smith, 24,467; Daniel W. Tamm, 22,618; Judge Tuttle, 22,618.

Senator Couzens went into the lead this forenoon when an avalanche of votes from Wayne County (Detroit) were tabulated. As 250 of the 877 precincts missing are from Detroit, it is regarded as entirely probable these Detroit voting districts will add to the Senator's plurality.

The short term for the United States Senate, to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of former Senator Newberry and to which Senator Couzens was appointed by Gov. Groesbeck until the time of the November election this year, also may have been near its end.

Couzens, 165,308; H. H. Smith, 24,467; Arthur J. Tuttle, 15,517; Mortimer Cooley, dean of the engineering department of the University of Michigan, was the only Democratic candidate for both the long and short senatorial terms.

Gov. Alex. J. Groesbeck was nominated by the Republicans for a third term by an overwhelming plurality. With reports from 1527 precincts the vote stood:

Groesbeck, 152,223; Herbert Baker, 41,731; James Hamilton, 41,135; Frederick Perry, 45,711; W. P. Fetter, 10,928; Thomas Read, 8147; Charles R. Sligh, 51,655.

Closest Far Ahead in Massachusetts Race.

By the Associated Press.
BOSTON, Sept. 10.—A vote tabulation of the combined number of ballots cast for his two opponents for the Republican nomination for the United States Senate was polled by Speaker Frederick H. Gillett, of the National House of Representatives in 1907, out of 1432 in the northwesterly Boston, which have reported on yesterday's primary. The vote was: Gillett, 137,022; Louis A. Coolidge, 47,183; Frederick W. Dalinger, 73,829.

The Republican gubernatorial vote from 476 precincts gave Fuller 61,000; Jackson, 37,676.

James Lacey, the Northampton candidate, who is known to County, as the friend of President Coolidge, was nominated for State Representative in the First Hampshire district.

In the closing days of the Republican senatorial campaign, Speaker Gillett was endorsed by William M. Butler, chairman of the Republican national committee and Governor Cox. This aroused heated protests from Congressmen Dalinger and Mr. Louis A. Coolidge. Both asserted that Chairman Butler was attempting to dictate the party nomination. One of Speaker Gillett's supporters was Frank W. Stearns, a close friend of President Coolidge.

In their campaign, Gillett and Dalinger have made the issue between each other largely one of support of the President. Dalinger has asserted Louis Coolidge represented those opposed to President Coolidge.

On the Democratic ballot there was no opposition to the nomination of Mayor James M. Curley of Boston for the governorship and the renomination of U. S. Senator David I. Walsh.

Congressmen renominated without opposition were first district, Allen T. Treadwell (Rep.); fifth district, John Jacob Rogers (Rep.); sixth district, A. Platt (Rep.); seventh district, William J. ...

NEW YORK JOINS TAX SUIT OF STATES AGAINST THE U. S. FOR $300,000,000

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, Sept. 10.—GOVERNOR SMITH today approved a contract whereby New York will join a number of other States in a joint suit against the United States Government for the return of direct taxes approximately $300,000,000 paid, immediately after the Civil War.

New York's claim totals $49,029,875.

The suit will seek recovery of direct taxes levied by the Government on certain manufacturers in the years 1863, 1867 and 1868. Burton Smith, a New York lawyer and brother of Hoke Smith, former Senator from Georgia, has been appointed general counsel for all the states.

Suits authorized by 16 states call for the return of more than $116,000,000. In addition to New York's more than $49,000,000, the amounts to be sought include: Delaware, $1,472,740.45; Georgia, $11,897,604.23; Illinois, $6,403,226.72; Indiana, $2,154,361.09; Louisiana, $11,989,078.14; South Carolina, $4,172,421.16; Tennessee, $7,873,460.71; West Virginia, $1,460,101.16. In addition to the 16 states which have signed contracts, Burton Smith said, 27 other states are preparing documents which will make them parties to the litigation. The suit is to be filed in the United States Supreme Court.

London Women Enjoy Their Aroma at Dress Parade.

(Copyright, 1924.)
LONDON, Sept. 10.—At a dress parade given by a Paris house in London it was surprising to see all the women spectators smoking cigarettes and still more unexpected to find the air perfumed with a delicious aroma.

Each visitor on arrival was presented by a mannequin dressed in a quaint bonnet suit with cigarettes and a case of hermetically sealed glass tubes filled with a new perfume.

The visitor was shown how to break the top off the tube and insert it into the cigarette, making the smoke permeate the tobacco. Those who experienced for the first time this vague for perfume on one's own cigarette, which comes from Paris, declared themselves delighted with it.

MOUNTBATTEN JEWELS STOLEN BY BURGLARS

Some of English Woman's Gems Reported Taken With Others From the Home of J. S. Cosden.

VALUE, SEVERAL HUNDRED THOUSAND

Theft Occurred When Mrs. Cosden, Lady Mountbatten and Mrs. Norton, Guests, Were Away.

By Leased Wire From the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch
NEW YORK, Sept. 10.—The New York World learned last night that reports had been received at police headquarters and by private detective agencies of the theft Monday night of jewels, said to be worth several hundred thousand dollars, from the Sands Point, L. I., home of J. S. Cosden, wealthy oil man and owner of one of the largest stables of racing horses in the country.

Jewels Valued at $250,000.

Gerard Luis, head of an investigating concern in charge of the search for the robbers, announced today that jewelry valued at $250,000 was stolen from the Cosden home.

The jewels taken, it was reported, belonged to Mrs. Cosden, socially prominent in New York and Long Island, whose collection of gems was noted for its beauty and value, and to Lady Mountbatten, who accompanied the Prince of Wales' party to this country.

Mrs. Richard Norton, another member of the Prince's party, also lost some jewels. The robbery was committed by a thief who entered the rooms of Mrs. Cosden, Lady Mountbatten and Mrs. Norton while they were away Monday night. Most of the jewels had been left on bureau and dressing tables by the three women. Mrs. Cosden's maid was placed at approximately $80,000.

Prince Entertained There.

During his stay, the Prince has been entertained several times at the Cosden place, once owned by the late Bourke Cockran. Lady Mountbatten, before her marriage to Lord Mountbatten, cousin of the Prince, was Miss Edwina Ashley, grand-daughter of Sir Ernest Cassel, from whom she inherited a fortune. Lord Mountbatten is a grandson of Queen Victoria and son of the former Prince Louis of Battenberg, who changed his name to Mountbatten.

With Norton, Lady Mountbatten was a guest at the Cosden home on the night of the robbery.

The collection of jewelry owned by Lady Mountbatten, who is reputed to be the wealthiest woman in England, included several gems collected by Sir Ernest Cassel while he was in virtual control of several of the world's greatest diamond fields. Lady Mountbatten brought most of her jewelry to the United States when she arrived with the Prince of Wales' party. Mrs. Cosden's collection also included famous jewels.

The Cosden home was one of the most closely guarded on Long Island and investigators are directing their efforts to ascertain whether the theft was an "inside job."

AMERICAN WOMAN IN PARIS LOSES $260,000 NECKLACE

Wore Jewels in Teakwood Hide From Hotel; Discovered Loss Next Morning.

By the Associated Press.
PARIS, Sept. 10.—The Parisian police are searching today for traces of the pearl necklace, said to be valued at 6,000,000 francs ($85,000), theft of which was reported to the authorities yesterday by Mrs. M. P. Savell of New York. Mrs. Savell is the wife of an engineer resident of New York but now traveling in the Southern States. Mrs. Savell left her hotel in a taxicab Sunday wearing her necklace and returned soon after 8 o'clock for dinner. She did not notice her loss until the following morning.

TWO 15-YEAR-OLD GIRLS CAUGHT IN SECOND HOLDUP

Pair, Arrested in Edwardsville, Held in Jail Pending Efforts to Communicate With Parents.

Two 15-year-old girls, one attired in sweater, cap and overalls and carrying a revolver, and the other in feminine attire and unarmed, held up two men in Edwardsville last night and were arrested as they were ordering the second victim to "beat it home."

The prisoners described themselves as Olga Endruzi and Margaret McMullen, both of Gillespie, Ill. They are held in the Madison County jail on first-degree robbery charges, while efforts are being made to communicate with their parents.

Negro Held Up First.

About 10:30 o'clock George Scott, a negro, was held up by the pair on East Orchard street. He had no money and the robbers, evidently disappointed at their ill luck, let him go his way. He went for police.

Two policemen were sent out to find the pair and came upon them upon them just as they were using Joseph Zrusk, proprietor of a battery service station, homeward, after taking all he had, 60 cents.

The second holdup also was on East Orchard street, near where Scott was stopped, and not far from Zrusk's home.

Give Fictitious Names.

They just as they were urged. They were disarmed and taken to jail. The girls were sulky at first and disinclined to talk. They gave fictitious names, and claimed Clinton, Ind., as their home town, but later changed their story. They said they intended only to rob rich men and recalled telling Zrusk, as he handed over his 60 cents, that they disliked holding up persons who were not rich. Zrusk confirmed this "Robin Hood" attitude of the robbers. His 60 cents was found in the overalls of the armed robber.

SHOWGIRL FINED $100 ON BIGAMY CHARGE

Amount Paid by Husband—She Is Paroled on Jail Sentence.

The legal inconveniences which have beset Mrs. Beattie Weir, New York showgirl, since her husband, Millard Goldsmith, sales manager for a local engraving firm, decided to charge her with bigamy to protect his estate, were temporarily ended today when Circuit Judge Wurdeman, at Clayton, fined her $100 and sentenced her to three months in jail.

She was paroled from the jail sentence and Goldsmith paid the fine. But the relief is temporary, because, Mrs. Weir said, she intends to sue Berl Weir for divorce and Goldsmith intends to bring annulment proceedings. That, she trusted, would clear up the affair.

Did she contemplate marrying again? "Not just yet," Goldsmith said, who was standing with her in a corridor outside the courtroom, remarked, "I hope when she does she gets a really good man. I shall be the first to congratulate her—and I say that with all sincerity."

Goldsmith and his wife have been on friendly relations since she changed her mind after fighting extradition, voluntarily returned to face charges and convinced him she had believed her first husband dead. She married Weir, a sailor, seven years ago, when she was 14 years old. He deserted her and she heard he had died. In 1923 she was married to Goldsmith, who is 44, after 18 days' acquaintance. She will return to New York, where, she said, she has professional offers. Goldsmith has announced his intention of going West for his health.

'DESPAIR AND SORROW' FOR SLAYERS' FAMILIES

Nothing but Darkness in Future, Says Loeb's Uncle in Statement.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
CHICAGO, Sept. 10.—A vista of years stretching endlessly ahead, filled only with despair and sorrow—this is the outlook for the families of Nathan F. Leopold Jr. and Richard Loeb, sentenced today to life imprisonment for killing Robert Franks, as outlined in a statement issued for their afternoon by Jacob M. Loeb, uncle of "Dickie."

It read:

"On behalf of the Leopold and Loeb families, there is but little to say. We have been spared the extreme penalty. But what have these families to look forward to? Mr. Leopold Jr. is 64 years old. He has spent virtually his entire life in Chicago, coming here from Michigan as a boy. He has been an exemplary citizen. His youngest son—Nathan—was his special pride."

"He justly believed the boy was a genius, a most brilliant student and a loving son. He honored him with his own name. He hoped this boy of 19 would make his mark in the world, be a comfort and a solace in his old age and accomplish tasks for the benefit of humanity. Now Mr. Leopold is crushed in spirit in his declining years."

"Albert Loeb, my brother, has spent his life of 54 years in this city. He came from the ranks; he worked his way through college; he became a lawyer of repute, then a great business man. His one hobby was his wife and his children."

"He considered Dickie, his third boy, particularly talented. This son was crushed in spirit in his declining years."

COMMENT OF CROWE AND DARROW ON DECISION OF JUDGE CAVERLY

CHICAGO, Sept. 10.—ROBERT E. CROWE, State's Attorney, today issued the following statement on sentences imposed on the slayers of Robert Franks:

"When the State's Attorney arrested the defendants, solved what was then a mystery, and by the thoroughness of his preparation compelled the defendants to plead guilty, presented a mountain of evidence to the Court and made his arguments, his duty was fully performed. He is in no measure responsible for the decision of the Court. The responsibility for that decision rests with the judges alone."

"Like all other law-abiding citizens, when the Court pronounces his decision, I must be content with it, because his decision in this case is final. While I do not intend and have no desire to criticize the decision of the Court, I still believe that the death penalty is the only penalty feared by murderers."

"Fathers and mothers in Cook County may rest assured as long as I remain State's Attorney I will always do everything within my power to enforce the law honestly, fearlessly and vigorously, without regard to the status of the criminal."

"It was all we could have asked for," said Clarence B. Darrow, chief of defense counsel. "There will be no appeal. This finishes my connection with the case."

"I do not regard it as a victory except a victory for justice," said Benjamin Bachrach of defense counsel as he shook off those who offered congratulations on the youths' escape from the noose. "Do not congratulate me personally."

FIRPO'S ARREST ON MANN ACT CHARGE IS REQUESTED

Federal Judge in Newark, N. J., Removes Decision Until Tomorrow.

By the Associated Press.
NEWARK, N. J., Sept. 10.—Herbert Clark Gilson of Jersey City, accompanied by Canon William S. Chase of New York City and his attorney, Bernard Handler, today made application to Federal Judge Runyon here for a bench warrant for the arrest of Louis Angelo Firpo on a charge of violating the Mann act. Judge Runyon reserved decision until tomorrow.

The warrant was requested on a charge that the Argentine fighter, who meets Harry Wills in a 12-round fight at Jersey City tomorrow night, violated the Mann act by bringing a woman from Atlantic City to New York shortly before the Dempsey-Firpo fight a year ago.

Gilson is attorney for the Society for the Prevention of Crime and the Promotion of Morals.

ASSERTS PENALTY "SATISFIES JUSTICE"

Defendants Hear Sentences With Seeming Relief—99-Year Term Passed on Kidnaping Charge.

By PAUL Y. ANDERSON, A Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

CHICAGO, Sept. 10.—Richard Loeb and Nathan Leopold Jr. today were sentenced to life imprisonment by Judge John R. Caverly for the murder of 14-year-old Robert Franks, May 21 last. Sentences of 99 years also were imposed in the kidnaping case, which was heard at the same time. This was to meet legal technicalities.

Within a few hours the 19-year-old prisoners will be on their way to the penitentiary at Joliet. Delay in finding Judge Caverly, to have him sign the mittimus papers, meant plans of the sheriff to start for the prison. Meanwhile, a police escort remained in front of the jail prepared for immediate departure.

In declining to inflict the death penalty asked by the State, Judge Caverly announced that he was moved chiefly by a consideration of the defendants' ages. The fact that they pleaded guilty did not warrant mercy, he said. Neither was he convinced by the mass of expert testimony that they were partially irresponsible. Indeed, he nowhere found any circumstance which mitigated the enormity of the offense.

Age Barrier to Hanging.

"It would have been the path of least resistance to impose the extreme penalty of the law," he said. "In choosing imprisonment instead of death the Court is moved chiefly by a consideration of the age of the defendants. It is not for the Court to say that he will not in any case enforce capital punishment, but he believes it is within his province to decline to impose the sentence of death on persons who are not of full age."

"This determination appears to be in accordance with the progress of criminal law, all over the world, and with the dictates of enlightened humanity. More than that, it seems to be in accordance with the precedents in this State."

"The records of Illinois show only two cases of minors who were put to death by legal process, to which number the court does not feel inclined to make an addition."

"Complete Victory for Defense."

The verdict was a complete victory for the defense, which had asked for nothing less severe than life imprisonment. Clarence B. Darrow, chief of defense counsel, announced immediately that the case was ended as far as the defense was concerned. No further efforts in behalf of the defendants would be made, he said.

The prosecution has no appeal from the Judge's sentence, and although State's Attorney Robert E. Crow issued a statement, saying he believed the death penalty should have been inflicted, he made it plain that for him, too, the case was ended.

Apparently it is ended for ever.

WORLD FLYERS REST WHILE NEW MOTOR IS PLACED

Engine in Nelson's Machine Found to Have Stripped Timing Gears While Near Baltimore.

WOP TO DAYTON IS SET FOR SEPT. 12

President Coolidge Inspects Lieut. Smith's Cruiser After a Long Wait in the Rain.

By the Associated Press. WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.—Decision to keep the world flyers in Washington until Defense day, Friday, Sept. 12, was announced today by Major-General Patrick, chief of the Army Air Service.

Under the new arrangement, the test day for Dayton, which had been scheduled for tomorrow, will be postponed until Saturday. It was emphasized that the delay was due to a desire to give the flyers an opportunity to participate in the Defense day test in the national capital and not because of any mechanical failure of their planes.

Both Loeb and Leopold, he declared, had remained in a state of infancy where their emotions were concerned, while becoming fully developed on the intellectual side. As a result, he said, Loeb now possessed the emotions of a child of 3 or 4 years, together with the intellect of a normal boy of 18, while Leopold had remained emotionally at the age of 6 or 7, but possessed an intellect so powerful and versatile as to single him out as a prodigy.

Analysis of their emotional lives in detail, he took up their childhood phantasies, which, he declared, bore a strong and direct relation to the crime. The dominating phantasy of Loeb's childhood, he explained, was that in which he pictured himself as a "master criminal," head of a band of clever assassins and thieves, and directed their activities and befriending the police even when confined to a sick bed.

In Leopold's case, he said, there existed a strange phantasy in which Leopold pictured himself as the slave of a king whom he protected by fabulous feats of valor, and to whom he was intensely devoted.

Pointing out that all small children have such phantasies and outgrow them, Dr. White declares that both Leopold and Loeb had, because of their lack of emotional growth, carried on their phantasies to their present age, and finally had permitted their phantasies to break over into their real lives.

This came about, he said, because of the "devoted" phantasy which the two phantasies happened to fit together. Loeb, as the "master criminal," needed an accomplice and a follower who would aid and applaud his criminal pranks. Leopold, as the "slave," needed somebody who would fit into the picture as his "king" upon whom he could lavish his morbid affections. Thus each filled the psychological need of the other, the expert testified.

The "Childish Compact."

As a supplementary aspect of the situation, he told, out of hearing.

Daughters of Retired Banker Who Elope Together With Their Father's Chauffeur and Electrician

MRS. CAREY J. MILES.

FASHIONABLE society at Lenox, Mass., were astounded last week to learn that the two daughters of Granville L. Winthrop, retired banker, well known as an antiquarian and philanthropist, had eloped in their father's absence with his chauffeur and electrician, also a former employee on the country estate. The chauffeur and his bride have not since been heard from, but Darwin Morse and his bride were in a hotel at Burlington, Vt., yesterday, where they refused to discuss the case. Winthrop collapsed when he was told of the double elopement. He has since left his country estate and is in seclusion under a doctor's care.

The former chauffeur, Carey J. Miles, 34, is a widower, and his bride, formerly Emily Winthrop, is 31. Darwin S. Morse, the electrician, is 33 and his wife, formerly Kate Winthrop, is 34.

MRS. DARWIN S. MORSE.

They were not fully responsible. They dwelt on their careful plans to escape detection, plans demonstrating a high order of intelligence and a keen sense of the dangers involved. The phantasies, they said, were no more than the ordinary day dreams of imaginative boys. Dr. Woodruff, a gland expert, said that virtually nothing is known of the influence of glandular development on conduct.

Darrow in Mercy Plea.

The foregoing, in substance, was the outline of the testimony. It was followed by the arguments, in which Darrow made a dramatic plea for mercy, condemning the State's insistence on the death penalty as barbarous and uncivilized. It was a characteristically brilliant, novel and philosophical discourse. Crowe, in reply, attacked the defendants savagely, declaring that if they did not hang nobody should hang, as the crime was the most deliberate, cold-blooded and brutal in the criminal annals of the State. He made a reference to the "friendly judge" testimony, which drew from Judge Caverly a scathing rebuke, denouncing Crowe's statement as an attempt to invoke mob spirit against the court. Crowe seemed genuinely surprised at this construction.

Judge Caverly took the case under advisement Aug. 28. He reviewed the lengthy record, arrived at his opinion Sunday, and wrote and sealed it. Since then he has been in seclusion, suffering severely. It is said, from the strain of work and responsibility.

With all the expensive expert testimony that was introduced, the main hope of the defense lay in two facts: First, the youth of the defendants, and second, the fact that they had pleaded guilty. The stance and good measure to the test was merely put in to give subterfuge for mercy.

At the time the crime was committed, Loeb was 18 years old and Leopold was 19. Loeb is the son of Albert Loeb, vice president of Sears, Roebuck & Co. Leopold's father, Jacob Frank, father of the victim, is a retired pawnbroker. The three families are regarded as among the wealthiest in Chicago, each fortune being estimated at many millions.

Leopold had the distinction of being the youngest student ever graduated from the University of Chicago, while Loeb enjoyed an identical distinction at the University of Michigan. Aliens have testified, as a result of their experiment, that Loeb's mentality has been overrated and that he was not far different, intellectually, from the average college graduate of 18.

Leopold, on the other hand, is recognized as a genuine prodigy, approaching, if not arriving at, genius. He began to talk at the age of four months, began his observation of bird life before he was five years old, spoke five languages at the age of 17, and now has a reading and writing acquaintance with 14, including Sanskrit, Russian and Hawaiian. He is a recognized authority on bird life. He broke all records when intelligence tests were applied to him, some of the tests not being scaled high enough to register his power.

SCHOOL EXPENSES $1,900,000 MORE THAN RECEIPTS

Financial Statement Issued to Explain Refusal to Grant Salary Increase to Teachers.

In explanation of the action of the Board of Education last Friday in rejecting a proposal of Superintendent of Instruction Maddox to increase teachers' salaries in the public schools, President Roskopf last night gave out a statement on the financial condition of the board, showing that expenditures of the board for the 1924-1925 school year will exceed the receipts by $1,961,122.

Due to the erection of two new high schools, the special school for crippled children and three new schools for negroes, the board this year will spend $2,382,000 in building operations, a sum more than twice as large as the average amount expended for the same purpose during the last six years, the average during that period having been $1,170,000 annually.

Will Still Have Balance.

The fact that expenditures for building operations this year will exceed the receipts does not, however, indicate that the board will be financially embarrassed, as a capital balance of $5,599,000 was reported to the board by Acting Secretary-Treasurer McNamee. Thus the board will have a balance at the end of this year of $3,415,000.

The board deferred action on the election of a secretary-treasurer until the November meeting, but it was understood a choice would be made at that time.

New Position Approved.

The board approved the creation in the Instruction Department of a division of vocational counseling, to assist pupils in fitting themselves for careers after they leave the schools. The recommendation of Superintendent Maddox, beginning with an additional outlay of $185,734 this year and increasing to $559,174 for the 1927-1928 school year.

STANDARD OIL OFFICIAL, PRICE INQUIRY WITNESS

Chairman of Board of Indiana Corporation Reads Statement on Contracts With Other Firms.

By the Jefferson City Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch. JEFFERSON CITY, Sept. 10.—The hearings in the State's inquiry into gasoline prices in Missouri, to determine whether the antitrust laws are being violated by the Standard Oil Co. of Indiana and other oil companies, were concluded today with the testimony of Robert Stewart of Chicago, chairman of the Board of Directors of the Standard of Indiana.

At the conclusion of the inquiry, Attorney-General Barrett declined to state what action he will take, but it is understood anti-trust proceedings will be instituted against one or more companies. No finding of guilt was made by Barrett C. Chastain of Butler, Mo., the special commissioner of the State Supreme Court, as he was appointed merely to supervise the taking of testimony.

Statement by Stewart.

Stewart, the only witness today, was not sworn. He read a lengthy, typewritten statement, defending the operations of his company in Missouri since 1913, when the State Supreme Court suspended its antitrust law against the company and it was allowed to continue business on "good behavior." The company has appealed the order to the United States supreme court and it had been affirmed, together with a $50,000 fine, which was then paid.

Stewart denied the Indiana company was affiliated in any way with "any other so-called Standard company, or that it was dominated by any other company, and declared it to be absolutely independent, both in ownership and management. He insisted the company had not broken its "good behavior" promise.

The company has no contracts or agreements with other companies to fix prices or to divide up territories, nor has it ever granted secret rebates, Stewart continued.

Contracts in Force Ten Years.

In regard to contracts executed by the company with 21 other companies whereby the 21 are licensed to sell the Standard "cracking" process, patented by the Standard of Indiana, on condition none of the gasoline so produced by the 21 is to be sold in Indiana company's territory, Stewart said that the company had been drawn on advice of counsel that they in no way violated the laws of Missouri or other states.

He said the contracts had "remained unchanged for 10 years in Missouri until Attorney-General Barrett began his present investigation of gasoline prices, and until United States Attorney General Stone, at Chicago, last June, filed suit against the company of Indiana and other companies.

Stewart asserted, however, that the provisions restraining the 21 companies from selling in the Standard's field never had been invoked, and the Standard never had sought to enforce them. He said only 20 per cent of gasoline produced in this country is by "cracking" processes, the other 80 per cent being by so-called "straight run," and that only a small part of the "cracking" was under the patent held by the Standard of Indiana.

Citing statistics which, he asserted, proved his contention that competition existed in Missouri, Stewart said the Indiana company has only 23 retail filling stations in Missouri, as against 75 dispensing other brands of gasoline, and only 316 wholesale stations as against 546 for others. The company's refineries have a daily capacity consumption of 70,000 barrels of crude oil, as against a capacity of 800,000 barrels for 260 other refineries throughout the country, he added.

Hearings Decried. "Considered by the State," Stewart finished reading his prepared statement, attorneys on both sides announced they had nothing further to offer, and the hearings were declared closed. The hearings had been in progress at intervals since Aug. 11 last.

The State virtually closed its case at a hearing Aug. 21, but Standard's attorneys asked another hearing today to permit Stewart to testify on behalf of the company.

Oil Men at the Hearing.

A delegation of Standard of Indiana officers and attorneys arrived here yesterday afternoon, including John D. Clark, vice president; L. L. Stephens, general counsel; Alan J. Jackson, vice president in charge of sales; Stewart, chairman of the board; Edgar Bogardus, assistant to vice president Jackson, and others.

A desire on the part of the Standard of Indiana to settle any antitrust action that may be instituted by the State, was indicated by an recourse to court action, was indicated in a conference held

WON PROMOTION WITH HIS NIGHTSTICK

DETECTIVE SERGEANT JAMES O'GORMAN.

PATROLMAN PROMOTED FOR ROUTING ROBBERS

James O'Gorman, Who Used Nightstick Effectively, Made Detective Sergeant.

The feat of Patrolman James O'Gorman of the Deer Street District, in routing two robbers with a nightstick Monday at the Kings Theater after he had been shot in the hand by one of them, received official recognition yesterday when he was promoted to the rank of Detective Sergeant by the Board of Police Commissioners.

President Brockman, of the Board, in announcing the promotion, praised O'Gorman for his display of courage and intelligence and said the promotion was the only means by which the board might fittingly express its appreciation.

O'Gorman, who is 35 years old, has been a member of the force for 17 years. He resides at 4763 Hammett place. Twice before, in recent months, he had earned the commendation of his superiors for distinguished service. On one occasion it was for the arrest of a former convict who was later identified as an oil filling station robber, and again for solving the murder of a negro janitor who was found slain in the basement of the Rubicon Business School, 4933 Delmar boulevard.

The board also promoted Detective Henry A. Holdenard to a sergeantancy to fill a vacancy. Holdenard, who also has made several notable arrests recently, has been a member of the force since 1911. He is 47 years old and resides at 2254 Missouri avenue.

with Barrett yesterday afternoon by Chairman Stewart and Vice President Clark.

The conference was held at the request of the Standard of Indiana officers, Clark and Stewart informed Attorney-General Barrett that the company was willing to make changes in any of the provisions of its contracts with other companies licensed to use Standard of Indiana patents for "cracking" petroleum; where those provisions are objected to by the State, it was learned. This would be done without admission that those provisions of the contract were illegal, it was said.

No Conclusion Reached. The company officers also stated they understood Attorney-General Barrett desired a downward adjustment of retail gasoline prices in Missouri and indicated they would be willing to attempt such an adjustment, but could not guarantee to meet competition at prices below cost of production. Attorney-General Barrett stated he had no power to deal with the company other than on a point of whether the contract provisions for "cracking" contracts are legal, and asserted this was a point for the courts to settle. No conclusion was reached at the conference.

As has been related, Attorney-General Barrett, at the last hearing, introduced in evidence 26 contracts between the Standard of Indiana and other companies licensed to use the Standard of Indiana's patented process for "cracking" petroleum to recover gasoline, which contained clauses alleged to be in restraint of trade. Virtually all of these contracts carried a provision excluding the companies holding these licenses from selling any of the gasoline so manufactured in any of the 11 states claimed by a Standard of Indiana territory.

The State contended that these contracts, which Standard of Indiana officers admitted still were in effect, had the effect of keeping the companies from competing with the Standard of Indiana in the latter's territory and constituted restraint of trade.

Attorney-General Barrett, in the last hearing, took the position that a combination between owners of individual patents to pool them, to eliminate competition, is an illegal combination, because the alleged restraint of trade arises from the combination itself and not by exercise of any rights conferred in the patents they own.

DUKE OF WESTMINSTER IS SUED FOR A DIVORCE

Duchess, Now in This Country, Alleges Cruelty and Misconduct With Other Women.

By the Associated Press.

LONDON, Sept. 10.—The Duchess of Westminster, who had figured prominently in the gossamer connected with the entertainment of the Prince of Wales on Long Island, has petitioned for the dissolution of her marriage, the papers having been served on the Duke Aug. 18, it was revealed in court this morning.

The divorce proceedings came out when attorneys for the Duchess renewed application for an injunction to restrain the Duke from ejecting her from her home, Bourdon House, Berkeley Square, near Grosvenor House, the Duke's London home.

The Duchess alleged that shortly after her marriage Nov. 25, 1923, the Duke treated her with great cruelty. The attorney also declared that the Duke's relations with other women were such that the Duchess demonstrated with him at Cannes in January of this year, telling him she must alter his mode of life or she would be unable to live with him.

The Duke, however, continued the attorney, and suggested they should live apart, the Duke suggesting the Duchess live at Bourdon House and accept monetary provision would be made for her.

Counsel said the Duchess did not desire to leave the Duke but that his refusal to alter his mode of living left her no alternative.

Duke Ordered Her Out. The Duchess lived at Bourdon House until the divorce petition was filed, counsel continued, the Duke then ordering her out.

Counsel contended the starting of divorce proceedings did not take away the Duchess' right to live at Bourdon House, and counsel for the Duke gave an ad interim undertaking today not to interfere with the Duchess' occupancy in the person of her maid.

The Duchess of Westminster arrived in New York Sept. 2. She is the daughter of Sir William Nelson, British steamship owner, and sister of James Hope Nelson, who married Miss Elizabeth Vane of St. Louis. The Nelsons are now divorced. Before her marriage to the Duke, the Duchess was Mrs. George Rowland, wife of a British cavalry officer

M. P. CONTRACTS FOR 50 NEW LOCOMOTIVES BY NOV. 15

Purchase Price for Equipment Is Estimated to Be About $3,000,000.

The Missouri Pacific railroad has contracted for 50 new locomotives to be delivered by Nov. 15. Thirty-five of these, 10 passenger and 25 freight engines, will be built by the American Locomotive Co., the remaining 15, all switch engines, will be constructed by the Baldwin Locomotive Works. Although the exact cost of the new equipment has not been announced, it is understood the purchase price will be about $3,000,000.

Two of the locomotives under construction by the American company, a passenger and a freight, will be equipped with three cylinders. This third cylinder, the same size as the other two, will rest between them and under the front of the boiler and will be in synchronization with them. The three-cylinder locomotive is still in the experimental state, but the Missouri Pacific has purchased these two so they may find by actual road tests if they are of any economic and at the same time mechanical value. Tests conducted by their makers show them to add about 18 or 20 per cent mechanical efficiency. An increased amount of steam pressure is necessitated by this type engine.

ANTHRAX IMMUNITY SERUM

PARIS, Sept. 10.—Edmond Ducoux and Dr. Eunis have made a serum immunizing against anthrax. A report telling how by means of this serum they preserved 26,000 cattle and 10,000 sheep from an epidemic was read Monday evening at a meeting of the Academy of Science.

Announcing—A Three-Day Advance Showing and Sale of

FINE LINENS

—to Be Featured in Our 32d Anniversary Sale
Thursday, Friday and Saturday, September 11, 12 and 13

Linens of surpassing beauty, exquisite in texture and lavish in delicate handwork, have been gathered from far countries for this occasion. Linens so beautiful that they will go down through generations as heirlooms; practical Linens for everyday service; rich gleaming damasks from Ireland—these have been assembled for our Anniversary Sale and are presented in a display three days in advance of the sale.

Many months of effort were necessary to place before you this marvelous exposition—representative of the finest handwork, and totaling in value a quarter of a million dollars. It will afford you rare delight to see these exquisite things, but the greatest pleasure will come when you have learned the low prices at which they may be purchased.

We invite you to attend this Advance Showing—which will be held on the Second Floor—and to take full advantage of the buying opportunities it presents.

FOUR KILLED IN REVOLVER FIGHT AT POLLING BOOTH

Election Commissioner,
After Killing Old Enemy, Is Wounded, Kills Latter's Sons, and Then Dies.

TWO ONLOOKERS SERIOUSLY WOUNDED

Trouble Began Eight Years Ago With Slapping of 13-Year-Old Boy—Knife Fight Recently.

By the Associated Press
OPELOUSAS, La., Sept. 18.—Four men were killed and two others were seriously wounded as a result of a revolver fight at Plaquemine Point polling booth in St. Landry parish yesterday.

The dead are John J. Childs, his two sons, Thomas and Getty, and Joseph Cormier. The injured are Arville and Baptiste Richard, both of whom are in a hospital here.

The shooting resulted from ill feeling of several years standing, aggravated by an encounter between Thomas Childs and Cormier a month ago and the heated political campaign incident to yesterday's Democratic primary.

The Coroner of St. Landry parish is authority for the statement that John Childs began the shooting. Cormier was officiating at the booth as an election commissioner when the Childs trio appeared. An argument over political matters began and the older Childs drew a revolver and began shooting.

Cormier returned the fire, killing his assailant instantly, but was himself wounded by bullets fired by the two sons.

The three shot it out, Cormier, wounded a half dozen times and lying on the ground, emptied his pistol but calmly reloaded it and resumed pouring a stream of lead at his assailants. Thomas Childs was killed instantly. Cormier died twenty minutes after his opponents had been beaten, while Getty Childs lingered an hour.

The Richard boys, brothers, were in the line of fire with other bystanders and were a little slow in seeking cover. Each was struck by stray bullets.

The trouble between Cormier and the Childs family is said to have started eight years ago when Cormier slapped Thomas Childs, then a lad of 13 years. There was ill feeling later, too, over the grading of land for road building, and it broke into flames four weeks ago when Thomas Childs and Cormier met at a cotton gin in Lewisburg. They fought with knives and though Childs was slashed several times, he injured Cormier so badly that the latter was taken to a hospital where he remained until a week ago.

Cormier was one of the largest land owners in St. Landry parish and both the Cormier and Childs families have been prominent in the community for years.

After Illness Get Strong Again With Cod Liver Oil

Every mother, as well as every grandmother, knows that Cod Liver Oil is a great strength creator and body builder—the best on earth. But sick folks won't take the easy-tasting, horrible smelling, stomach setting oil, and who can blame them? And thanks to science—they can't have to—now for any drug store in America you can get 60 McEw's Cod Liver Oil Tablets for 60 cents, and the sure you have taken one but you will know why all the Doctors praise Cod Liver Oil and tell you that it is chock full of vitamins that build you up, make you strong and wonderfully aid digestion. If you want to feel fit and fine all the time, put your faith in McEw's Cod Liver Oil Tablets—the original and genuine—so easy to take as candy—and money back if they don't help you. Ask Wolff-Williams Drug Co., Johns & Joseph Drug Store, Riedel's Drug Co., Johnson Bros. Drug Co. or any real druggist about them. Mrs. T. Walter, West, Oregon, N. WITNESS FOR NOELL IS CROSS-EXAMINED

Man Who Testified in Favor of Attorney on Stand When Case Is Resumed.

Trial of the suit of the St. Louis Bar Association, charging Attorney Charles P. Noell with unprofessional conduct and seeking to disbar him, was resumed today before Circuit Judge Pearce with Earl Fredericks, Noell's principal witness, under cross-examination. Fredericks, who formerly lived at Terre Haute, Ind., but now lives in East St. Louis, is the one whom Noell, it is charged by the Bar Association, spirited out of St. Louis last December to prevent his giving testimony in a damage suit against the Big Four Railroad. As in a deposition given several weeks ago, Fredericks exonerated Noell of any wrongdoing in connection with his disappearance.

Witnessed Accident.
Fredericks witnessed an accident in which a car repairman was killed in the Big Four yards at Terre Haute, resulting in a suit filed in St. Louis by his widow, with Noell as her lawyer.

Fredericks' testimony, in a deposition to be used in the damage suit, fastened liability on the Big Four, and at the trial of the suit he was brought here by E. J. Hoyt, a Big Four claim agent, to "set right a wrong he had done by his previous testimony," as the agent expressed it. But before he could be called he had disappeared from his hotel. A mistrial of the damage suit was declared as a result of the incident.

Says Testimony Was Correct.
Fredericks now asserts that his original testimony in the damage suit was correct and that he was "bluffed into" coming here by E. J. Hoyt, a claim agent for the Big Four, who promised that the railroad would "stick to him like glue," pay him $1000 and would not let him get into trouble if he changed his testimony.

"He wanted me to say that there was no blue flag on the track where the man was at work," said Fredericks. "I had testified before that there was a blue flag and that the cars that ran over the man, while he was at work under a car, were 'kicked off' on this track. I told him I wasn't going to lie about it, but he kept insisting the railroad would take good care of me."

On the evening of the first day of the damage suit trial Fredericks, according to his testimony, was visited at the Pontiac Hotel by Charles Noell's brother, Wilson Noell, who warned him that if he didn't tell the truth a bench warrant charging perjury would be issued for him. Fredericks then decided that the best thing for him to do would be to leave, so, as he expressed it, he "hit the high places for East St. Louis" and there boarded a freight train to Evansville, Ind., riding in a refrigerator car. He denied that Noell furnished him with any money to get out.

Decides on Best Life Insurance
"Five years ago I was refused life insurance because of my heart condition. Doctors said it was caused from a pressure of care that came from my death, but that medicine did not help me, and I was getting worse all the time. Three years ago my doctor recommended Bell's Wonderful Remedy. I took a course of it and it is the best life insurance money can buy. It helped my trouble at once." MINE OWNED BY UNION MEN IN LABOR DISPUTE

Warren S. Stone in Letter Says It Will Lose Money Under Jacksonville Agreement.

LEWIS DECLARES MEN ARE ON STRIKE

This Is Denied by Head of Engineers, Who Is Chairman of Board of Coal Concern.

By the Associated Press. INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Sept. 10.—The Coal River Collieries Co., which operates coal mines in West Virginia and Kentucky and is owned by members of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, although the brotherhood has no direct interest in the company, has refused to sign a wage agreement with the United Mine Workers of America because it cannot break even by operating under union demands, according to Warren S. Stone, head of the engineers and chairman of the board of the coal company.
Stone's statement was contained in correspondence on the situation between John L. Lewis, president of the Miners' Union, and himself, made public by Lewis last night.
Until last April 1 the company, owned by members of the Engineers' Brotherhood, operated its West Virginia mines on a union basis, but refused to concur in the Jacksonville (Fla.) agreement to continue existing wages for three years. Since last April the mines have been closed.

Calls Position Intolerable.
In a letter to Stone, on Aug. 22, Lewis states that the employees of the Coal River company have been engaged in a strike since April 1, and declares that the company has assumed the same attitude as other operators in the field, attempting to force the union men to take a wage reduction. Stating that the Coal River Collieries Co. is actively engaged in fighting the Miners' Union, the letter adds:
"The Coal River Collieries Co., while not a member of the Kana-wha Coal Operators' Association and while not utilizing the eviction instrument, is in all other respects apparently co-operating with the coal operators. This is an intolerable position for a coal company, whose stock is largely owned and whose affairs are directed by union men, to occupy."
Charges Breach of Agreement.
Stone in reply said, the Miners' Union failed to carry out their agreement with his company while it was operating on a union basis and said his company desired to continue operations last April and offered to continue existing wages until an agreement was worked out, and to pay the increase if one was decided on.

His company, he said, suffered large losses on contracts by being forced to close down when the men refused such an offer.
He declared the mines had been closed rather than operate a non-union mine. Stone denied that the miners of his company are on strike, declaring they are ready to return to work now. Calling attention to aid given by his brotherhood to the Miners' Union in case of need, Stone's letter continued:
"The members of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, who have invested over $2,000,000 in these properties, are entitled to some return on their investment, and I think you will concede this, and yet at the present price at which coal is selling, and the cost of mining under the Jacksonville agreement, it is impossible for the union mines to break even."

Under the Jacksonville agreement he said labor cost for loading a ton of coal are $1.43 and the ton sells for only $1.30.
Like Other Companies.
In reply Lewis denied that his union had broken any of its agreements with the collieries company, again charges that the company, owned and controlled by union men, is co-operating with operators opposed to the miners' union and, regarding production costs, he said:
"Your company occupies no different position in this matter than any other of the thousands of coal companies which have agreements with our organization. The United Mine Workers cannot be responsible for problems of management in which they have no voice. The question of efficient management and low cost production to enable you to remain in the market with competing companies is one that must be dealt with by your corporation. It is a problem that forever confronts one who elects to become a coal operator."

Lewis ended his letter by demanding that the collieries company negotiate an agreement with the union on the basis of the Jacksonville agreement. To this letter Stone did not reply, and the correspondence is ended with a telegram from Lewis to Stone on September 3 again asking Stone to reply to the letter asking that his company make an agreement with the Miners' Union.

PRINCE PLAYS DESPITE BAD EYE AND THE RAIN

Shoves Black Patch From Front to Back of His Head and Has a Go at Polo.

By Leased Wire From the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.
NEW YORK, Sept. 16.—The Prince of Wales is waiting eagerly, almost anxiously, for dry ground for the British-American polo games, but in the meantime is playing polo himself, even though the playing field is damp and his injured right eye still bothers him. The Long Island visit of the Prince will be extended into next week if the second international polo game is played then and if the honors should be even between the British and Americans after the second game will stay for the first contest, Captain Lascelles, his secretary, said today.

Plays Another Game.
The Prince played another polo game this morning at the J. S. Phipps field in Westbury. The swelling in his eye has almost disappeared. The Prince will no longer wear his eye-shade or his yellow glasses.

The eye had developed into a real "shiner" yesterday from the clod of mud which struck him while he was playing polo Monday afternoon. Three doctors attended him yesterday morning, trying to bring down the swelling and make him presentable for the continual round of parties which mark his holiday at Syosset, Long Island.

The doctors, William McFee, Richard Derby, son-in-law of the late Theodore Roosevelt, and Edwin Leale, ordered the young Prince to wear yellow smoked glasses and a black patch.

The Prince obeyed the doctors' orders about as other men do. He tried yellow glasses for a short while and when the driving force of his restless energy took him back to his favorite game of polo yesterday morning he shoved the black patch to the back of his head out of the way.

The Prince's polo was played yesterday in the first drizzle of the soaking rain which made the international polo game impossible. The horses came near falling several times. He had returned to his vacation home in Syosset at 5 o'clock in the morning, after a dinner dance at the home of Mr. Ambrose Clark in Westbury. He lay abed until nearly noon. After breakfast the threat of rain made the Prince doubtful that the international polo game would be played. He kept his staff busy telephoning to the Meadowbrook Club to find out whether the game had been postponed.

While they were still telephoning at frequent intervals, he slipped out of the house, the black patch over his eye, with Maj. E. D. Metcalfe, his closest companion. Together they went to Phipps Field in Westbury, for a practice game of polo. His bodyguard was reluctant to let him go while his eye still bore the marks of the game. Then the two returned to the Burden place, where the Prince and his party are guests, to attend a luncheon party given by the Prince to prominent social figures. Among them were Col. George Harvey, former Ambassador to Great Britain, and Mrs. Harvey; Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Phipps; Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Grace; Mr. and Mrs. Kermit Roosevelt, the Duke of Alba, the Duchess of Berwick, Mr. and Mrs. James A. Burden Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Harold I. Pratt, Mr. and Mrs. J. Butler Wright, Capt. and Mrs. the Hon. Frederick A. Court, Capt. Mrs. E. S. Land, U. S. N.; Clarence H. Mackay and his daughter, Ellen; and Mrs. John S. Lawrence of Boston.

Plants a Red Oak.
The Prince later planted a red oak tree near the red brick home on the Burden estate, to commemorate his visit, using a nickel-plated spade, and expressing the hope this one would fare better than others planted by him on previous occasions.

He also attended another of the almost nightly dinner and dancing parties—this one at the home of Harrison Williams in Glen Cove, which have been features of the royal visitor's American holiday.

Piles, Fistula, Fissure, Ulcers, Etc.

Dr. C. Matthew Coe, St. Louis, Mo., Oct. 21, 1935.

My Dear Doctor and Friend:—

On Sept. 27, 1935, I went to you to be treated for a bad condition of Piles and Fistula. You treated me at your office, and cured me in about two weeks.

I did not lose any time from my work; a fireman, at Engine Company No. 11—2400 South Fourth street.

I am in perfect condition now. I gladly recommend you, and your treatment to any one who is troubled with rectal troubles.

Sept. 1st, 1936—My condition today is most satisfactory. It is now 10 months since you cured me as above stated. Use this letter to best advantage for others who may be suffering with Piles.

Yours truly,

COL. HASKELL DISMISSED CAPT. HIBBEN AS DISLOYAL

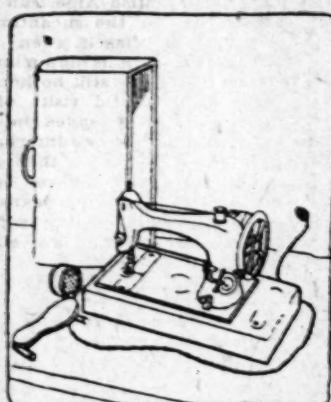

By the Associated Press. NEW YORK, Sept. 10.—Capt. Paxton Hibben, former newspaper correspondent, whose fitness to retain his commission in the reserve officers' corps is being investigated by a special army board of inquiry, was dismissed from service in the Russian Relief Commission, Lieut. Col. William N. Haskell testified today.

Col. Haskell, formerly head of the American relief organization in Russia, told the board he had received Capt. Hibben because the Captain had sent cablegrams to American newspapers which were held to have been of a political nature. He also testified he (Haskell) had sent a telegram to the War Department reading: "Due to his past record in the diplomatic service and his socialistic tendencies, I recommend that Capt. Hibben's applications for a commission in the regular army be blocked."

Capt. Hibben was in Col. Haskell's commission for about six months, the former relief head said. He was in the intelligence department, stationed at Paris.

Detective Louis Herman of the New York Police "Bomb Squad," another witness, testified he had attended a meeting in June, 1932, at which New York radicals bade farewell to the Russian agent in this country, and at which Capt. Hibben was a speaker.

SONNENFELD'S "SALES of PROGRESS"

The "Sales of Progress" were planned to mark the formal opening of this enlarged establishment. That they have measured up to the importance of the occasion has been clearly evidenced in the interest the public has manifested and by their liberal patronage throughout the week. Thursday's events will further demonstrate the exceptional nature of the offerings.

Luxurious Coats

Featured in the "Sales of Progress"

$79

Women who habitually pay much higher prices for Winter Coats will find in this collection the quality in style, fabric and fur to which they are accustomed. The feature price is made possible by extreme concessions which we have received and are making to our patrons in the "Sales of Progress."

DRY LEAGUE LETTER ASKING FOR AID TABLED BY BOARD
St. Clair County Supervisors Ignored Communication From Anti-Saloon Secretary.
It was evident at yesterday's meeting of the St. Clair County Board of Supervisors in Belleville that very few if any members are favorable to the prohibition law. At least a communication which was received from James H. Danekin, field secretary of the Illinois Anti-Saloon League was ordered tabled without being given a reading. The communication requested the board to appoint a committee on enforcement of the dry law in St. Clair County and to lend its financial aid in wiping out the bootleggers and law violators. The letter quoted the law on prohibition as follows:

"It shall be the duty of all county boards to lend every possible assistance to the State's Attorney, Sheriff and other officers to enforce this act.

When Chairman Sullivan of the board announced that a communication had been received from the Anti-Saloon League and inquired whether it should be read there was a chorus of "nos" and not a single "yes." Supervisor Leo Altrogge of East St. Louis made a motion to table the letter without reading and the motion was carried.

CHILEAN REVOLT DUE TO HELPLESS CONGRESS

Only Law Which Body Was Able to Pass Was One Giving Salaries to Members.

Post-Dispatch Bureau.
30-32 Wyatt Building.
WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.—Failure of the representative branch of the Chilean Government to function because of the presence of too many parties in Congress is the cause of the peaceful revolution that has occurred there and confirmed in dispatches received by the State Department today.
The breaking down of parliamentary government similar to that which has occurred in Spain, prominent Chileans here say, necessitated drastic action and for this reason the assumption of power by Gen. Luis Altamirino is likely to be approved by the public.
Altamirino, hailed by the South American press as the Mussolini and as the Primo Rivers of Chile, is Inspector General of the Chilean army. Associated with him is the highest officer of the navy, so that the two branches of the service are working together. The office of Inspector General in the Chilean army is comparable to that of Chief of Staff in the United States.
President a Refugee.
The State Department received confirmation, not only of the resignation of President Alessandri but also of the rumor that he had taken refuge in the American Embassy. His government is definitely concluded and he seeks safety in the American Embassy until he can secure transportation out of the country.
Gen. Altamirino, as the head of the newly formed Cabinet, is the acting chief of the Government, with apparently absolute power in his hands.
The revolution is as complete as that which Primo Rivers brought about in Spain and is more comparable to that of Mussolini since Altamirino has seized the reins of power.
The trouble that resulted in the resignation of President Alessandri long has been pending according to information in diplomatic circles.
One Law Passed.
The Congress, made up of various groups, has been unable to perform its duties. The budgetary law, upon which the Government expenditures depend, had not been passed, and the Government had no funds with which to function. There was an important labor law pending, which did not receive the attention of the helpless Congress. Congress succeeded only in passing a law giving its members salaries. This required a constitutional amendment, since the Chilean constitution holds that no representative shall be paid.
Utter chaos resulted when the army and navy officers placed before President Alessandri a demand for a new Cabinet made up of army and navy men and a group of civilians not associated with politics. President Alessandri acceded and the Cabinet resigned, giving place to that headed by Altamirino. The Altamirino Cabinet then went to Congress demanding the passage of the desired legislation and received assurance it would be passed. The resignation of Alessandri and his appeal to the American embassy were unexpected developments.

REARRESTED IN WILKINS CASE

Kansas City Negro Held on New Evidence.
By the Associated Press.
KANSAS CITY, Mo., Sept. 10.—Dillard Davis, negro janitor at the home of Dr. Zoe Wilkins, was rearrested here yesterday on a first degree murder charge in connection with the murder of Mrs. Wilkins at her home last March.
The negro was released Monday from a similar charge after a preliminary hearing before Justice Shepard. James M. Elder, city detective, said today that further evidence had been obtained against Davis.

Great News for Everybody!

Milk of magnesia and pure mineral oil have now been successfully combined.
This triumph of modern Science is great news for all who suffer from acid (sour) stomach and indigestion—the evil effects of acidosis and constipation.
The name of this perfect emulsion is Haley's Magnesia-Oil—registered under United States Government Patent.
You will welcome it if you are ever afflicted with heartburn and belching, have that dark brown taste in the morning, or see black specks dancing before your eyes.
Stop at your druggist's today and get a bottle of Haley's M-O. Start taking it tonight. It will fix you up in no time—for Haley's goes straight to the seat of the trouble. Take all you need of it. Give it to the children—they like it. There is nothing harmful in Haley's M-O. Only an emulsifying, pleasant mineral oil and pure milk of magnesia. Pure milk of magnesia is constipating and neutralizes the acid.

17 KILLED IN STRIKE FIGHT AT SUGAR MILL

Hawaiian Militia and Machine Guns Ordered to Quell Disorder Among Plantation Employees.

By the Associated Press.
HONOLULU, Sept. 10.—Seventeen persons are dead at Hanapepe, on the island of Kauai, as the result of a clash among strikers and workers on the McBryde plantations yesterday, according to word received here today.

One company of national guardsmen and two squads of machine gunners will be sent to the trouble zone.

An unestimated number of strikers were wounded as they fled from the cane fields to hospitals which are overflowing with wounded. More than 100 strikers have been arrested.

The fight occurred when the police attempted to rescue two Filipinos who continued to work when a strike occurred on the McBryde plantation at Hanapepe and had been kidnapped by the strikers as they were returning to their homes yesterday.

Crowell, who is in the Makaweli Hospital, wounded in the head, is expected to recover.
At the request of Gov. Farrington, the navy has dispatched a seaplane, carrying E. M. Bolton, acting Adjutant General of the National Guard, and J. K. Butler, secretary of the Sugar Planters' Association, to Kauai. Despite current rumors that the National Guard was to be mobilized the Governor said he would not act until he had received a report from Bolton.

SAYS TAXI DRIVERS 'STALL' AT STATION

Capt. Gerk Makes Statement
About Brown and Yellow
Cabs at Traffic Hearing.

The way of the taxicab chauffeur at Union Station was considered at today's meeting of the Traffic Council, with W. J. Brown, head of the Brown and Yellow taxicab companies, "on the carpet."

The Council, to save incoming travelers at Union Station from annoyance, recently issued orders that no solicitation of passengers was to be made by chauffeurs. Since then, as admitted by Brown today, notices have been posted in Brown and Yellow garages instructing chauffeurs who unload at the station to try to get a load at the same time. Brown contends this is no violation of the Council's orders, but his competitors insist it is.

Says Drivers "Stall."
Capt. Gerk of the Police Traffic Bureau said Brown and Yellow drivers are "stalling" extensively around the depot while waiting for passengers. They delay in making change for passengers, studiously inspect tires, stare into the radiator tank and otherwise kill time, he said. Frank Murphy of the Red Top Co. corroborated the Captain. But Brown was not convinced. His men were not instructed to stall, he said, but were told that if a person came along and made as if to enter the cab, while it was momentarily stopped, well, then, let him or her in.

Murphy offered a possible explanation of the alleged time-killing tactics. He said chauffeurs who "get the business" are considered better men than those who don't, and, therefore, the Brown and Yellow employees were soliciting.

Takes Up Hotel Situation.
Murphy also had a complaint about the situation at Hotel Statler. He recalled that when the Yellow company, before it was acquired by Brown, had a monopoly there, Brown allied himself with the outsiders. Now, said Murphy, the Brown and Yellow cabs have their own starters inside the lobby doors, to the disadvantage of competitors.

With Brown still maintaining he had violated no rules, Capt. Gerk warned him not to, and Chairman Brod of the Traffic Council intimated all taxicab parking stands in congested districts might be abolished if present troubles continued.

$2500 Damage by Fire.
A fire at the Glasco Electric Co., 781-27 North Eleventh street, at 1:20 p. m. yesterday, caused by an electric cable's insulation burning, damaged the building about $2500 and the company's stock $2000.

The fire was confined to the basement where electrical goods were stored, but there also was some smoke and water damage to the first floor. D. R. Cohen is president of the company. The loss was insured.

FRANCE REPORT TO GIVE GER IN THE LEAG

This Is Conditioned, of Note by Berlin D for W

By ARNO DOSCH-FLEUBOT Berlin Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch and New York World.

Copyright, 1934, by the Press and Publishing Publishing Co., the New York World and the Post-Dispatch.

GENEVA, Sept. 10.—Germany has received unofficial assurance that there is the necessary two-thirds vote to ensure her entry into the League of Nations whenever she applies. The question of a permanent seat for her on the council is still uncertain, but there is hardly any doubt it will be attained.

The uncertainty is caused by the question of whether it is best to create another permanent seat or to ask Brazil or Spain to give up their places. The fear of Spain and Brazil that one of them might be asked to give the seat to Germany raises one of the few difficulties, and the plan of creating a new seat is the most likely to be adopted if Germany is voted in.

Count Harry Kessler who has the unofficial negotiations in hand for Germany takes the acquiescence of France as certain, provided the German Government does not issue a note denying Germany's war guilt. Realizing that the German Cabinet meets early next week to decide whether to send the note, the unofficial German observers here are getting promises for votes in the Assembly so that they can give Chancellor Marx and Foreign Minister Stresemann assurance both of entry into the League and a permanent seat of the Council. Thus Stresemann and Marx will be prepared to meet the Cabinet with definite proposals.

The unofficial observers consider Germany will take a deciding step in issuing or not issuing the war guilt note. If it is not issued, they are prepared to consider it a preliminary to Germany's request for admittance into the League before the end of the present Assembly.

Comment of French

Statesmen on League

Copyright, 1934, by the Press and Publishing Publishing Co., the New York World and the Post-Dispatch.

PARIS, Sept. 10.—Interest in the League of Nations has never been so keen in France as now, when the assembly is seeking a way to bring about disarmament and international arbitration. The personal participation of the French and British Premiers in the assembly's discussions tends to emphasize that all eyes are turned toward Geneva, full of hope that the league will point the way to the solution of the world's problems.

Eminent French statesmen have given to the New York World and Post-Dispatch opinions on the league which are highly interesting, in view of the big things being attempted at Geneva. These opinions follow:

Gaston Doumergue, president of France: "The League of Nations will exert a highly beneficial influence on future international relations, completing and strengthening the agreements and alliances previously made, while preparing a new political order of things."

Edouard Herriot, Prime Minister and Minister of Foreign Affairs: "The League of Nations is the center of a new policy of international action, endowed with power to insure peace and re-establishment."

The many St. Louis users of Polarine Oil especially will value this opportunity to secure a supply at a saving.

ST. LOUIS POST-DISPATCH
Founded by JOSEPH PULITZER
Dec. 13, 1878.
Published by the Pulitzer Publishing Company, 1011A Boulevard and Olive Street.

THE POST-DISPATCH PLATFORM.

I know that my retirement will make no difference in its cardinal principles, that it will always fight for progress and reform, never tolerate injustice or corruption, always fight demagogues of all parties, never belong to any party, always oppose privileged classes and public plunderers, never lack sympathy with the poor, always remain devoted to the public welfare, never be satisfied with merely printing news, always be drastically independent; never be afraid to attack wrong, whether by predatory plutocracy or predatory poverty.

JOSEPH PULITZER.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

Unify the Transportation System.
To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

IN TAKING a decided stand for unified urban and suburban transportation service in St. Louis, the Post-Dispatch is on sound social and economic ground. The methods employed in the original organization of the United Railways, bribery of city officials, watering of stock to the extent of $10,000,000 in $100,000,000 of the property between 1900 and 1917, alienated all public confidence and good feeling from the United Railways. The receiver has managed the property, within its limits, very well, but has been handicapped by the conditions which accompany any receivership, and has not been so fortunate in securing the good will of the public as he has been in giving service up to the limit of the existing plant. No doubt the record of the railway management prior to the receivership has greatly handicapped the receiver in securing confidence and good will.

The chief consideration now is the welfare of the people of St. Louis. This welfare, it is clear, can be best served, not by competition, but by one unified service, bus, street car, etc.

The United Railways are not entitled to any sympathy, but there can be little doubt in the minds of informed people that permitting the People's Bus Co. to operate at will and refusing similar permission to the St. Louis Bus Co., co-operating with the United Railways, is not calculated to serve the best interests of the people of St. Louis. The end can be, only as the Post-Dispatch points out, amalgamation of the bus and street car properties, probably at an inflated valuation, charges on which must be paid by the people of St. Louis. That the bus company can get 10 cents fare with ease, while the United Railways get a seven-cent fare with difficulty is eloquent comment upon the superior public relations enjoyed by the bus company, and shows that service, not the rate charged therefor, is what the people are interested in.

The injury done streets by the buses must also be taken into consideration. In any event, all forms of urban transportation should be integrated and work as one and in as asserting the Post-Dispatch has taken an advanced and unassailable position. ENGINEER.

Don't Raise Street Car Fares.

WITH the granting of 43 miles of additional bus lines, St. Louis is at last getting an efficient bus service. The United Railways, on the other hand, says that by granting the bus company additional routes they will have to raise their fares, as their total revenue for the first eight months is below that of last year, for the same period; due, they say, to the bus competition.

By raising the fares, I'm induced to believe that the U. R. is taking the wrong course. If the fare is raised to 10 cents, which they say is probable, they will lose as much as they are with the present fare. The reason is: Would not the tired working man and woman rather ride on the bus where they are assured of a seat, than take a chance of getting a seat on the street car? Especially if fares are the same on both? Whereas if they reduced their fares they would draw the crowds from the buses, and regain their old crowds.

Therefore, Mr. Perkins, consider! E. H. S.

Annexation Desired.
To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

THE time for annexation of St. Louis County is at hand, and let us hope it will be placed alone in the election and not with something we do not want, so that we may scratch no instead of yes. Give me St. Louis service; we hunger for it. The electric current is off days at a time, and more often in the past two years than all my years of living in the city. No police protection, no garbage collected, water on a meter. You will find a great many unsanitary places moving water to keep down expense. Not a street fit to drive on. We are becoming a crowded city with country conveniences. A CLAYTON RESIDENT.

World War Responsibility.
To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

IN the Globe-Democrat of Sept. 5 I found the following editorial: "The repudiation of the admission of war guilt by Germany is obviously a political gesture to appease the Nationalists, and it cannot in any way alter the facts of history."

It would be interesting to learn what is meant by "the facts of history." There are two versions.

1. The guilt, as presented to us during the time of poisoned war propaganda. 2. The sober consideration, after the war, of documents and facts by lovers of truth, such as Senator Owen, Professors Barnes and Fay of our country, E. D. Morel of England, ex-Secretary Nitti of Italy and many others.

The first version is the old one that threw the civilized world into hatred and misery; the second tries to establish conciliation through the unveiling of truth. Is it not time that we American citizens sober up and pay attention to those sober men who want to heal our poisoned souls? J. THOMAS.

THE KLAN REPUDIATED.

The Ku Klux Klan has been put where it ought to be in Missouri, outside the pale of reputable politics. Both the Democratic and Republican conventions in Jefferson City repudiated the Klan by name, and condemned its purposes and practices.

The Democratic convention adopted the utterance of John W. Davis, Democratic presidential candidate, at Sea Girt, in which he condemned all organizations, including the Ku Klux Klan, which raise the standard of racial and religious prejudice or attempt to make race or religious belief a test of fitness to office.

The Republican convention, affirming its stand for equality before the law, and its opposition to "any organization which attempts to abridge or deny to any citizen of this State or nation the full civil and religious rights guaranteed under the Constitution," declares: "We oppose the Ku Klux Klan because it denies to American citizens the full exercise of those rights, and tends to arouse racial and religious hatred."

There is no equivocation nor evasion in the declaration of either party. The repudiation and condemnation of the Ku Klux Klan is complete.

La Follette and his followers have repudiated and condemned the Klan. If the Klan wants a party, it must take its own. The American party, headed by Gilbert O. Nations, whose platform embraces practically all the intolerances and bigotries that are festering in the dark recesses of the fanatical mind.

This is as it should be. The Post-Dispatch feels that it is justified in its long campaign to eliminate the Klan from politics, from any connection with government, and to put an end to its lawless activities. The people of Missouri are free now to judge the parties on the sound basis of economic and political issues.

THE GOLTRA FLEET'S LAUNCHING.

Capt. Kennedy of the Army Engineering Corps finds that 14 of the 19 barges and two of the four towboats comprising the "Goltra fleet" can be put in commission within 15 days, and on the strength of that report Judge Farris has ordered the lessee, Edward F. Goltra, to place these boats in operation Oct. 1. Should Mr. Goltra fail to do this the Court "will consider an application for a receiver," which statement, under the circumstances, may be construed to mean that the application will be granted.

Thus it is that "The Strange Story of the Goltra Fleet" at last leaves within sight of a happy ending. For it is with the operation of the boats that the public is concerned, its interest as to whom they are operated by—the lessee or a receiver—being only casual.

With the passing of September, then, the fleet will renounce its involuntary idleness, emerge from its hobo incarnation and assume its proper function as a transport. The resurrection may be greeted with a lyrical—not literal—cup of "brown October ale."

CHAOTIC CHINA.

If the Chinese masses were not temperamentally peaceful, the present conditions in that country of over 400,000,000 would be alarming. As it is, the so-called civil war in the neighborhood of the treaty port of Shanghai may be stopped by the show of force on the part of the great Powers, in the landing of British, American, Italian and Japanese marines.

The trouble with China is that, since the fall of the empire, in February, 1912, the country has had no Government worthy the name. It has a modern Constitution, a President who is a figurehead, a Cabinet and a Parliament. That much is modern. But outside the capital, Peking, government is still more or less on a feudal basis, the Governors of the 18 provinces being as contemptuous of the national Government as the feudal barons were of any of the early English Kings.

Incidentally, there are two Chinas. But this means little or nothing. Sun Yat Sen is supposed to rule in Canton, in the extreme south of the country, while Tsao Kun is a sort of shadow ruler at Peking, 1200 miles away, in the extreme north. These rival Pooch Bahs, both "Generals," are not only separated by the entire length of China, but could hardly make a real war against each other without the consent of the military Governors of the intervening provinces. The result is that, since October of last year, Sun Yat Sen has rested on his arms in Canton; Tsao Kun, in Peking. Each has been kept busy enough trying, in vain, to stop the bandits from capturing and murdering foreigners, or trying to assure foreign Governments that banditry is a local affair for which no Government should be held responsible. An incident that was reported last December indicates how great a farce the Peking republican Government, the stronger of the two, is. Dr. Wang Hsien, a Peking radical editor, was fined $2, Mexican money, for calling the members of Parliament "pigs." His excuse was that he named no names, but that members who extended their own term of office deserved to be called pigs, that being the Chinese word indicating slaves.

If foreign intervention, to the extent of actual armed invasion, becomes necessary to coerce the rival provincial rulers now trying to fight it out near Shanghai, it will be because the Chinese have not yet shown any ability in self-government. That will take time to develop. But if China is ever to prosper as she might, with her vast resources and clever people, her leading men must see to it that the republic is more than a name.

While John W. Davis discusses the issues Chairman Butler says Davis is out of the race. Which will win the contest—the issues on their merits or strong-arm propaganda?

THE LOEB-LEOPOLD SENTENCE.

Youth and abnormality were the grounds of Judge Caverly's decision in sentencing Leopold and Loeb to life imprisonment instead of to the gallows, on their plea of guilty.

The Judge found no mitigation of the crime, but on the evidence submitted to him concluded that there was abnormality, and followed the precedents of State practice, in which there was no case of minors being sentenced to death on a plea of guilty.

There is little difference between life imprisonment and execution, if the imprisonment is really for life. The trouble is that where parents of criminals are wealthy, a sentence to life imprisonment is not the end of the case, but the beginning of a series of efforts to release them from prison. Probably a death sentence would have been better for all concerned, including the boys. But there is no ground for serious criticism. Judge Caverly, we do not doubt, acted on his conscience and judgment in deciding in favor of life imprisonment, which is regarded by many people and by some State Legislatures as the most severe sentence that ought to be imposed on criminals.

When Joan of Arc, at her trial in Rouen, recanted the heresy charged against her, in the expectation of gaining her freedom, the Judges sentenced her to life imprisonment. Joan seized the recantation paper and, tearing it into pieces, exclaimed: "Give me the stake, rather than loss of freedom and imprisonment in a dungeon for life." Doubtless many condemned criminals, if they believed they were really to be imprisoned for life, would choose death.

The Chinese are not going to neglect any liberties secured to them by the hands-off policy of the Western Powers, including the liberty to annihilate each other.

MR. HUGHES IN THE CAMPAIGN.

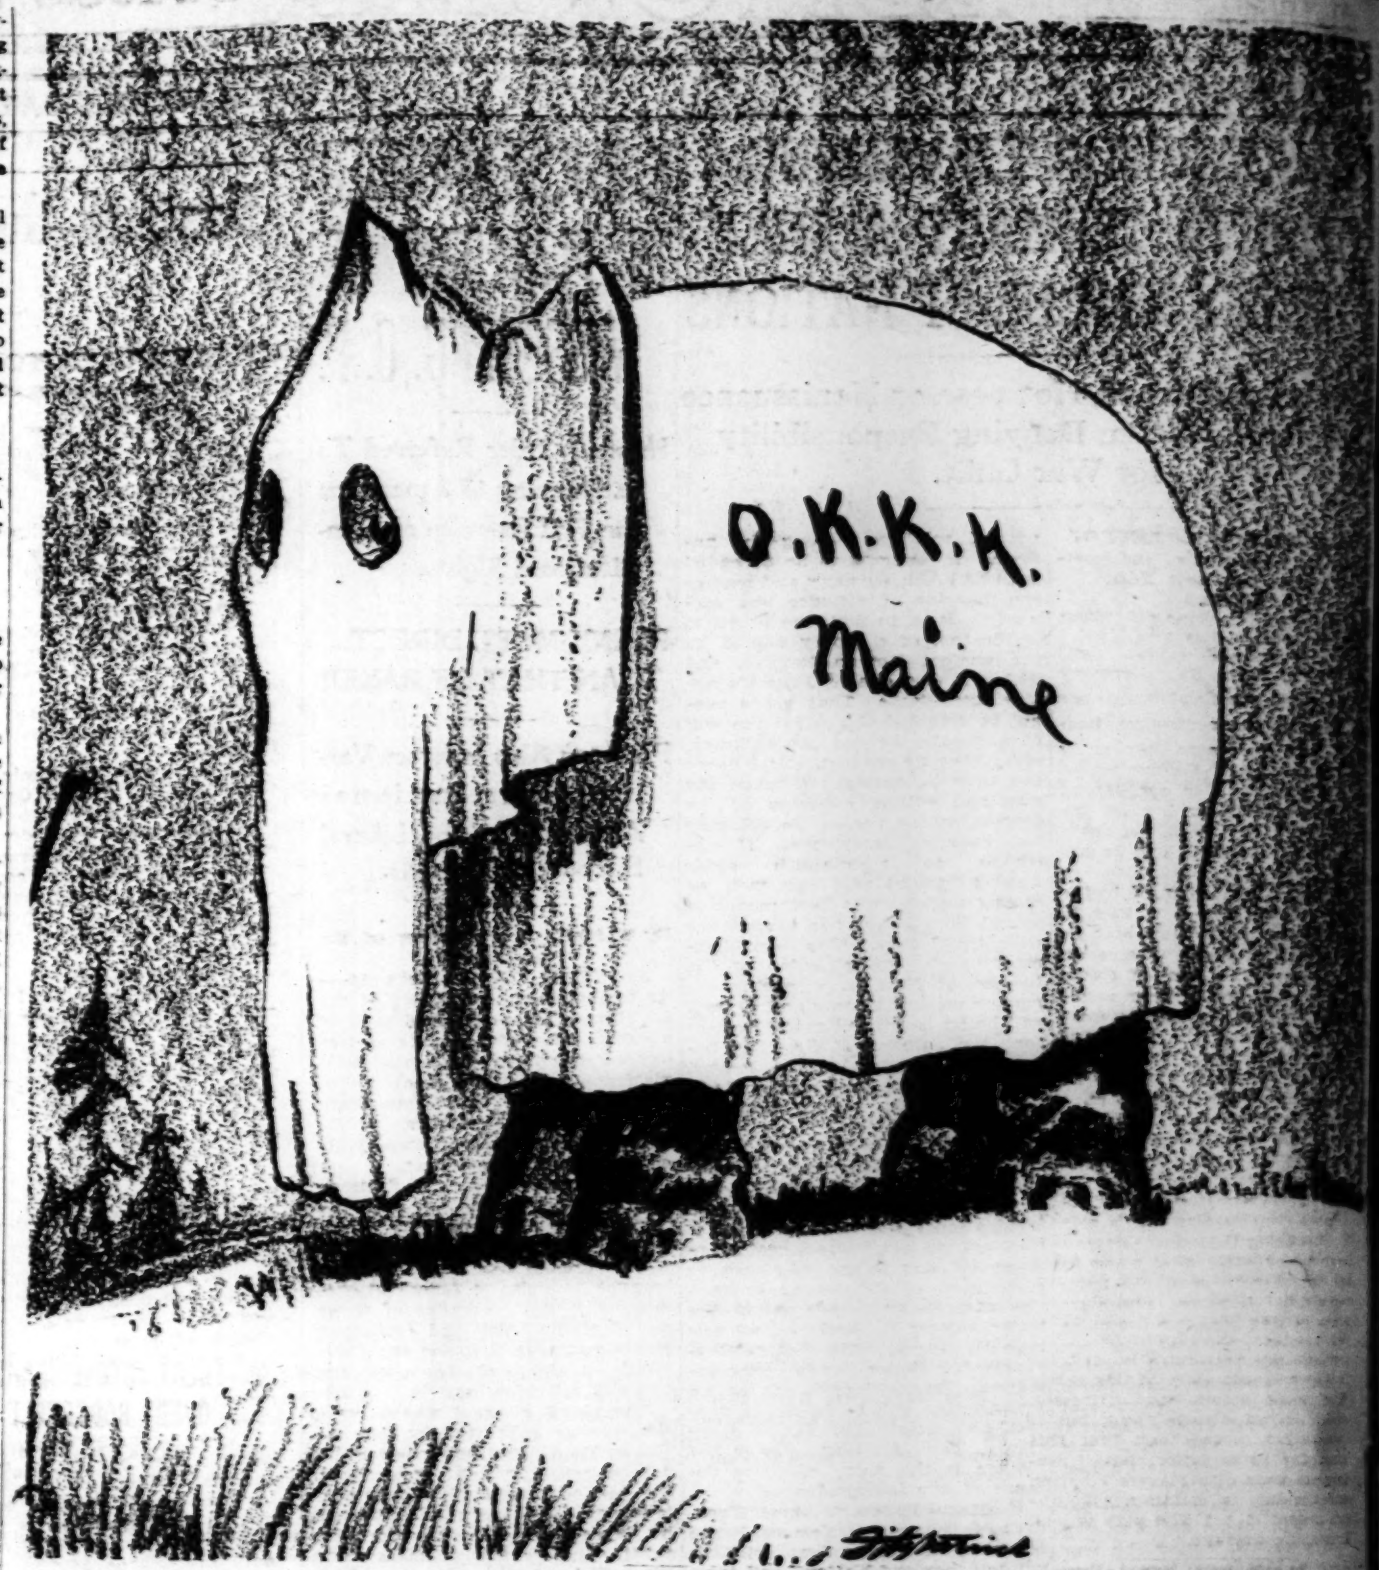

Secretary of State Hughes has written a monograph on the administration's foreign policy which has been issued by the Republican National Committee as a supplement to the party's campaign textbook. In his discussion he reiterates the belief that the United States can only be of assistance to Europe by remaining officially aloof from all international efforts. Direct participation by us, he is convinced, is impracticable. The success of the Dawes commission is the peg from which he drapes his conclusions.

In this attitude Mr. Hughes renounces his position of four years ago when he joined with 30 other leading Republicans in the famous memorial urging the election of Mr. Harding as insuring our early entrance into the League of Nations. Of course, this change of front in Mr. Hughes is not of recent origin. When he accepted the secretaryship of state he became a 100-percent isolationist and has since adhered to that doctrine with fidelity and punctilio.

But as a contributing editor to the Republican campaign textbook it seems proper to record that the complete isolationist of 1924 was an ardent pro-leaguer in 1920. And since he has entered the campaign in this official fashion it may, perhaps, be permissible to recall that Mr. Hughes was the lawyer who successfully defended Truman Newberry against the charge of bribery, thus saving the gallant Commodore from the penitentiary.

Silence having worked in Maine the last chance for a torrent of words from Mr. Coolidge seems to have passed.

"I CAN'T GET 'EM UP!"
(From the New York Evening Post.)

JUST A MINUTE

Written for the Post-Dispatch
By CLARK McADAMS

AS TO MAINE.
For grim reluctance to complain Commend us to the folks in Maine.
They never grumble.

The thieves might steal and steal and steal.
But Maine, we feel, would never squeal.
Or even mumble.

True to the love of time long past
She falls us when the vote is cast.
Whatever stumble.

Nor gives us when the times are tense
The least we sign that she repents.
Not even a rumble.

From which, in all calm judging Maine,
We fear that honesty's in vain.
Lord, what a fumble!

Not a sweet commentary on The way the Government has gone.
Since we were humble.

When the bank at Columbia, Ill., was robbed a few days ago the St. Louis police rushed to all the bridges to intercept the robbers getting back to their refuge in town. However, the robbers happened to cross in a motorboat that time, which recalls the story Hugh Jennings used to tell of the baseball game among the anthracite miners. There were two very good teams among them and Hugh had one of them in hand. There was in his town a sprinter whose availability in baseball had never been established, but when an important game came on in the rival town Hugh took the sprinter along. He thought he might need him. The game went to the ninth inning with neither side scoring. Hugh said to his men, "We can't hit this man. Why not put the sprinter in on a chance that he will get to base?" This was agreed upon, and the sprinter went to bat. The catcher missed the third strike, and Hugh yelled "Run!" The sprinter ran. He beat the ball to first, and then to the dismay of everybody on his side he kept on for second.
The second baseman got the ball and advanced up the line to meet the runner, but the sprinter lightly bounded over his head, touched second and kept on for third. The third baseman, like our police, attempted to anticipate the sprinter and when that wing-heeled youth bore down on him he clutched the ball tightly and leaped into the air. It happened that the sprinter dived this time. He was up like a flash and off for home. The catcher refused to take a chance. He simply took the ball and sat down on the home plate with it, but when the sprinter thrust one long foot under his nose his instinct overcame his caution and he tried to tag it.
This pulled him off the plate and the sprinter lightly leaped over his head and scored, winning the game.

A Russian woman teaching in one of the interior villages says the revolution has not changed the village a bit. The same people who had something under the Czar have something now, and those who were poor are still poor. Evidently fortune is not a political matter.

Maybe Judge Caverly decided that Loeb and Leopold are young and there is no hurry about hanging them.

The Republican platform in Missouri
indorses the Harding administration!

The Anti-Saloon League seems to have had a friend among the signers of the Declaration of Independence. During the chapter on Macready in his new book, The Actor's Heritage, Walter Pritchard Eaton tells how the English actor, on his first visit to the United States in 1824, met Charles Carroll, of Carrollton, Md. This old gentleman, the last living signer of the declaration, had every confidence in the future greatness of the United States if we escaped "the vice of intemperance in the use of ardent spirits."

A sign in Strasburg, Ill., reads as fol-

A BRASS TACK FOR MR. DAVIS.
From the New Republic.

"THIS is a campaign," said Davis in his acceptance speech, "of brass tacks—not bombs. This is a contest of facts and truth is demanded." So we agree with the sulphurous so heartily that we wish he would little of his own advice. We are still waiting to hear him reply, in a good way, to the charges made by David Berg in the New Republic of July 1.
Mr. Richberg there revealed facts and about a past action of Gen. Davis urgently require explanation, to say the least. He showed that on Oct. 11, 1914, the Central Trust Co. of Illinois, of which the General was president, made a temporary and highly irregular loan to Lorimer, the one-time United States attorney of unsavory reputation. This loan of $150,000 was made for the purpose of enabling Lorimer to exhibit it to the Bank Examiner as being the property of La Salle Street Trust and Savings Bank in process of formation. The examiner was deceived, the shares and the money returned to the Bank of Chicago. Recently the new Lorimer smash, and thousands of innocent holders suffered heavy loss. The regarded the Dawes institution as being sufficiently implicated to justify his action, and his reply was that he had been made by Gen. Davis and brother, the cashier, solely on their responsibility. After a 10-year hiatus courts it has been decided that the bank is legally liable to the Lorimer holders in a sum of more than $1,000,000.
We submit it to our readers whether with such an action in his record he be Vice-President of the United States about a few brass tacks on the Lorimer loan, Gen. Davis?

SEITZ AND HIS SECRECY.
From the Atlantic Monthly for September.

IT was in 1844 that Joseph Pulitzer, a year-old Hungarian, "jumped ashore" Boston Harbor and swam ashore to the world. After serving in the Federal army until the end of the Civil War, Mr. Pulitzer became a reporter on the Western World of St. Louis. With hardihood he made his way as a journalist, lawyer, and editor.
In 1875 he bought the St. Louis Post-Dispatch and united it with the Evening Post of St. Louis. In 1882 he bought the New York World, which, under his management, rose to prominent popularity.
His health was irretrievably broken by work. He died in 1911. Mr. Pulitzer was particularly successful in the loyalty of his audience. With 15 years served Don C. Seitz as manager of the World—an office which Seitz has maintained since his death.
For more than a decade has been gathering material for the biography of Mr. Pulitzer from which this trait is taken. ("Portrait of Joseph Pulitzer in the September Atlantic.")

Senator Willis Says It Is Greatest Danger Confronting Nation.

United States Senator Frank W.
Willis, Republican, of Ohio, speaking last night at the opening of the University City Chautauque, 393 Delmar boulevard, asserted the greatest danger confronting Americans today is their own indifference, and cited low percentage votes cast in Missouri, Ohio and elsewhere.

Woman suffrage, he said, has greatly altered this indifference.

ST. LOUISAN'S PLAY OPENS IN NEW YORK

Critics Are Unkind to "Thoroughbreds," of Which Lewis B. Ely Is Co-Author.

By Lewis B. Ely From the New York Post.

NEW YORK, Sept. 10.—"Thoroughbreds," the new comedy by Lewis B. Ely of St. Louis, and Sam H. Taylor, produced by Sam H. Taylor at the Vanderbilt Theatre Monday night, fell father "flat" to the judgment of the critics in its acceptance as that of the populace. The plot hinges on the main character, "Doc" Fussy, stealing thoroughbred horses, because he is a horse thief, but the cause of an uncontrollable love of the prize of Kentucky's native industry. Fussy, when caught last, had his daughter, though didn't know it, as his defense lawyer and it all wound up by accepting the old horse thief's father and rendering him the Mosaic law. Also in the marriages of the other parties to the story, all except the villain, "Not of This Earth."

Heywood Brown in his review of the play, writes:

"Thoroughbreds" seems to have had Madame X as one of its dams. At that time the story was with a son who happened to be assigned to the task of acting as lawyer for his mother. This time it is a daughter who finds, to her surprise, that the fortunate client is her father.

"Madame X" of the play was a horse thief, so you can see the resemblance between the play and the average."

"Still, throughout the action 'Thoroughbreds' I had an uneasy feeling of having been in this play before. Perhaps it was an accident, but at any rate my impression was that I did not do very much of the experience in first place. Certainly the characters seemed not quite of this age. They were actors, and actors which is not always fatal, but was rather worse than that. Time, for these unfortunate performers were also players laboring under a duty to maintain a Southern accent. The play is a below the average."

The Rev. Charles H. Cloud, S. J., who has been acting president of St. Louis University since last June when the Rev. William F. Robinson resigned because of ill health, has been appointed permanent president. The appointment was announced yesterday by the Board of Regents of the University.

Before his assumption of presidential duties, the Rev. Cloud was regent of the medical and dental schools. This post was now held by the Rev. Alphonse M. Schwitalla, professor of biology. Father Schwitalla obtained his doctor of philosophy at John Hopkins University following the completion of his Jesuit course.

MANY CHILDREN UNDER WEIGHT

Miss Harvey Smith Tells Convention One Factor Is Below Safety

By the Associated Press.
DES MOINES, Ia., Sept. 10.—One child in every four is so underweight as to be below the normal safety zone, and three every four are suffering from some physical defect which not only prevented and corrected, according to Miss Harvey Smith of St. Louis, who addressed the National Conference of Catholic Charities today.

"There are about 5,000,000 children so much below the standard of weight that they need immediate attention and at least 15,000,000 are handicapped by some correctable physical disability which not only hampers their physical development but their mental development as well," Miss Smith said. "It is one of the biggest factors in the failure of children to make grades."

NEW YORK, Sept. 10.—"Thoroughbreds," the new comedy by Lewis B. Ely of St. Louis, and Sam Forrest, produced by Sam Harris at the Vanderbilt Theater Monday night fell rather flat in the judgment of the critics to be accepted as that of the populace.

The plot hinges on the main of an old "character," Doc Fussy, for stealing thoroughbred horses, not because he is a horse thief, but because of an uncontrollable love for the prize of Kentucky's native industry. Also in the happy marriage of the other parties to the story, all except the villain.

"Not of This Earth," a review in the World, writes:

HOME OF ARCHBISHOP FURNISHED BY CLERGY

New Residence of Prelate Completely Equipped—Check Is Also Presented.

When Archbishop Glennon moved two weeks ago from 3810 Lindell boulevard to 4510 Lindell, he discovered to his surprise that his new home was already attractively furnished from basement to garret. To add to the pleasant surprise, no bills accompanied the furnishings.

Yesterday a committee of priests, headed by Mgr. Tannath, visited the Archbishop in his new home and formally presented the furnishings to him as the gift of the Catholic clergy of the St. Louis diocese, in appreciation of his accomplishments here and in token of the esteem in which he is held. Responding, the Archbishop thanked his visitors for their generosity and loyalty.

The gift is said to have exceeded $10,000 and included, in addition to the household furnishings, a substantial check, which the Archbishop announced he would use for the Kenrick preparatory seminary.

The new home has 20 rooms, was formerly the home of Julius S. Walsh. Not the least of its advantages over the former residence is that it is only a block from the Cathedral. It was purchased last March from a syndicate headed by Festus J. Wade, which bought it to prevent its purchase by an underwriter. The syndicate bought for $52,000, but the consideration for its resale to the Archbishop was not disclosed.

The new home has a chapel on the second floor, equipped with the original furnishings of the old chapel that had been given to Archbishop Kenrick. Art glass windows showing the Archdiocese's coat of arms and the names of the evangelists Matthew, Mark, Luke and John, have been installed in the chapel.

O'BRIEN ORDERS VIGOROUS HUNT FOR GUN-TOTERS

Chief Demands Improvement in Police Campaign Against Weapon-Carrying Vagrants.

STRAGGLERS COMING IN DAILY, HE SAYS

"Inevitable That This Class Will Turn to Robbery When Cold Weather Arrives."

An order to redouble their activity in quest of gun-toters was conveyed to police Captains by Chief O'Brien late yesterday when, in going over reports, he observed that only two arrests on such charges had been made by the entire department in the last week and none by the Detective Bureau's "gun squad."

Pointing out that the number of holdups reported has been increasing in the last few weeks and that the coming of cold weather is likely to bring further criminal activity, Chief O'Brien demanded that each district show an immediate improvement in its activity against "gun-toting" vagrants.

"Stragglers Coming In." "There is altogether too much gun-toting going on in this city," he said. "Stragglers are coming in daily, many of them armed. It is inevitable that this class of vagrants will turn to robbery when cold weather arrives."

"I want you to order your men to search every suspicious looking character and break up the gangs of young men who loiter at night in certain sections of the city. Now is the time to act if we are to prevent the usual winter outbreak of crime. Remember that the order of last February is still in effect."

Order of February

The "order of last February" referred to the "results or resignations" ultimatum which was issued by the Police Board on Feb. 10 after the city had been for several weeks in a series of crimes of unusual proportions. All policemen were put on 30 days' probation, told to get results, and required to work 12 hours a day, instead of eight. When the probationary period ended on March 10, records showed 8514 arrests had been made. The clean-up order, however, was allowed to stand.

Gun-Toter, Resisting Arrest, Shot by Kirkwood Chief

A youth in overalls and carrying an army automatic pistol, was shot in the neck by Chief of Police Weiss of Kirkwood yesterday when he resisted arrest and struck the officer on the Missouri Pacific Railroad tracks near the Kirkwood City Hall. He gave his name as James Moore, 20 years old, and told Weiss he had no home.

POLICE TRACING CAREER OF WOMAN WHO KILLED MAN

Prisoner Declares Victim Had Murdered Her Third Husband.

Authorities Say.

DETROIT, Sept. 10.—Across the international line to Toronto, Ontario, police trails lead to other chapters in the career of Mrs. Euphemia Mondich, held by the Detroit police as the confessed murderer of John Udorouch, who, police say, Mrs. Mondich accuses of killing her third husband, Joe Sokolsky.

Toronto police authorities have been asked to investigate Mrs. Mondich's alleged declaration that she was deserted in that community 10 years ago by her husband, George Woropchuk. She says he disappeared with $500 of her money and has heard nothing of him since. Three years before that time, she said, she was deported from Duluth, Minn., to her former home in Ukraine. She subsequently returned to America, settling in Canada before again coming to the United States. Duluth authorities also have been asked to investigate Mrs. Mondich's stories.

The woman denied she had been married nine times, as previously reported. On four occasions, only, had she been a bride, she declared.

Mrs. Mondich shot and killed John Udorouch as he lay in bed, because she feared him, she is quoted as saying.

WILL HUNT GOLD IN SUNKEN SHIP

Dutch Syndicate to Try to Salvage Treasure Lost in 1799.

Correspondence of the Associated Press.

AMSTERDAM, Sept. 1.—A Dutch syndicate is to make an attempt to recover the treasure sunk in the frigate Lutine off the Dutch coast in 1799. The value of the treasure, consisting of gold and silver bars and specie, has been variously estimated at sums up to 1,207,000 pounds and only 100,000 pounds has been recovered. A British salvage expedition in 1910 found insuperable difficulties in the sand in which the ship is buried.

THE STYLE YOUNG MEN WANT FOR FALL BY HART SCHAFFNER & MARX

The fall suit shown here is for young men who have an eye for a coat with a wider shoulder effect, a narrower touch at the hips, the draw of a vest at the waistline, the easy hang of the trousers—snug at the waist and then free, down to the swing of the full cuffs

Young men know what we mean and we know how to put such touches into clothes. Our label is your guarantee of it; a small thing to look for, a big thing to find

MERRILL OTIS NAMED TO FEDERAL POSITION

Appointed Assistant Solicitor-General of the United States.

Merrill E. Otis, former State Assistant Attorney-General and former chairman of the State Public Service Commission, has been appointed Assistant Solicitor-General of the United States.

The appointment of Otis, who also becomes special assistant to the Attorney-General, was made upon the recommendation of United States Solicitor-General James M. Beck.

Otis has accepted the appointment upon the condition that after serving through the October term of the U. S. Supreme Court, which will end about June 1, he may return to St. Louis and resume his law practice with the firm of Leahy, Saunders and Walther, with which he has been associated since his resignation as chairman of the Public Service Commission on Aug. 15.

DEFENSE PARADE HERE TO INCLUDE FOUR DIVISIONS

Final Plans for Observance Friday of Day Are Announced by the Citizens' Committee.

CEREMONIES AT FOOT OF ART HILL

Band Concert, Songs by Festival Chorus and Patriotic Address Among Features of the Program.

Final plans for the local observance next Friday of National Defense day were announced today by the Citizens' Committee in charge of arrangements.

The parade of military, patriotic, civil and fraternal organizations will be formed in four divisions on Lindell boulevard. At 3 p. m. it will proceed west on Lindell, entering Forest Park at Jefferson Memorial, and continuing in formation to Art Hill.

Patriotic ceremonies will begin from the speakers' stand at the foot of Art Hill after the arrival of the parade. The festival band of 40 pieces, under the leadership of Noel Poeppinger, will begin its concert at 3 o'clock and the ceremonies proper will open with several numbers by the Festival Chorus under the leadership of Frederick Fischer. This will be followed by a patriotic address and an oath of allegiance to the flag.

Divisions of Parade.
The official parade orders, now being prepared, will provide for four divisions, as follows:

Division No. 1—Military—Regular Army units, National Guard units, Naval Reserve units and organized reserve units. This division will form on Kingshighway, south of Lindell boulevard. Headquarters of the Organized Reserve and Naval Reserve will be on the baseball grounds in front of Barnes Hospital.

Division No. 2—Veteran and Patriotic Organizations—This division will form on the south side of Lindell boulevard between Kingshighway and Lake avenue.

Division No. 3—Negro Veteran, Patriotic and Fraternal Organizations—This division will form on the south side of Lindell boulevard between Lake avenue and Union boulevard.

Division No. 4—Civic, Educational, Religious and Fraternal Organizations—This division will form on the south side of Lindell boulevard between Union boulevard and De Baliviere avenue.

Parade orders provide that the Organized Reserve and the Naval Reserve will assemble at 2 o'clock;
all other military units and organizations at 2:30 o'clock. Organization flags will be carried by each unit, but all United States flags will be massed at the head of each division.

Col. A. T. Perkins, chairman of the Citizens' Committee, appointed by Mayor Kiel to arrange for the Defense Test day, urged every man between the ages of 18 and 44 years old to report to headquarters of the Organized Reserve or the Naval Reserve, where they will be presented with cards assigning them to the unit in which they desire to march.

No Obligation Entailed.
"Such will be a splendid manifestation of patriotism," Col. Perkins said, and he added that no obligation will be entailed other than "keeping step with the boys" in the parade. Col. Perkins said the test would not be a success if the proper expansion of the skeletonized reserve was not fully made.

In addition to those patriotic, fraternal and civic organizations that have been heretofore named as signifying their intention to participate in the demonstration, the committee's headquarters, Room 408, Old Custom House, has been advised that the Sons of the American Revolution, Major Leo Rassauer Camp, Sons of Veterans, and the League of Women Voters intend to have their organizations well represented.

The United Spanish War Veterans will not participate in the program. John L. Helm, senior vice commander of Missouri, announced today.

The Committee announces that all organizations that expect to take part in the demonstration, if they have not already done so, advise the committee headquarters by card or letter, so that such organizations may be properly assigned, which will be done by lot.
Organizations advising later than noon today of their desire to have part should call Col. H. D. Mc-Bride, Secretary, Olive 12,000.

New Citizens to March.
A feature of the Fourth Division, which will include patriotic, civil, fraternal and religious organizations, will be a section composed of those who have in a recent period qualified as citizens by receiving full naturalization papers. This section will be headed by Federal Judges Farris and Davis, and Mayor Kiel. Also to this division will be assigned the Ladies Drill Team and Drum Corps of Alhambra street.

WHEN POLITICS COMES NEAR ALTAR, RELIGION MUST AGT, SAYS POPE

By the Associated Press.

ROME, Sept. 10.—The Pope, receiving a party of university students who had returned from the Eucharist Congress at Palermo, addressed them yesterday concerning religion and polititics. Replying to those who held that the Pope should not concern himself with politics, he said:
"When politics comes near the altar, then religion, the church and the pontiff have not only the right, but the duty, to give directions and indications to be followed by Catholics, the supreme one of which was given by the divine Master, namely:
"Render therefore unto Caesar the things which are Caesar's and unto God the things that are God's."

NEW ATTEMPT MADE ON LIFE OF GANGSTER

Fusillade of Shots Fired at William Longo by Men in Auto.

Another apparent attempt to assassinate William Longo, 33-year-old Hogan gangster, was made at 12:05 a. m. today when several men in a passing automobile fired a fusillade at him as he was driving his machine into a garage at 1111 North Twelfth street.

Detectives who arrived at the scene a few minutes later found Longo frightened, but unharmed.
Three of the bullets had shattered the windshield and speedometer of his automobile. He said he did not recognize any of his assailants, who were speeding southward on Twelfth street in what he thought was a Cadillac. He offered no explanation of the attempt to kill him.

Seven Suspects Arrested.
An hour later detectives arrested seven police characters in a squadron operated by William Russo, at Seventh and O'Fallon streets after search of the place had revealed a .45 caliber automatic and a .45 caliber revolver, both recently discharged. The men, all of whom were Italian, denied knowledge of the shooting and said the weapons found in the place did not belong to them. They were held pending further investigation of the shooting when Longo failed to identify them.

Wounded Last March.
The previous attempt to assassinate Longo was made on March 18, last, when five of nine bullets fired at him from an automobile at Sixth and Wash streets, lodged in his body. He has a record of 82 arrests, the most recent having occurred last Sunday night when police men pursuing a speeding automobile overtook it at Seventeenth street and Washington avenue just after a shotgun had been thrown out of it by one of its three occupants. Longo, who was in the car, said the shotgun was his and that the party was starting out to hunt rabbits.

GETS 30 DAYS FOR FALSELY WEARING MASONIC EMBLEM

Arthur Van De Wilder Had Given Bad Checks, Several Persons Says.

Arthur Van De Wilder, alias E.
C. Berg, 30, was sentenced to 30 days in the workhouse today for violation of a law prohibiting an unauthorized person wearing the emblem of a secret order. He had worn a Masonic emblem to impress persons from whom he swindled small sums.

Police say that 15 persons complained Van De Wilder had led them to accept bad $100 checks.
These persons had answered advertisements addressed to a salaried Van De Wilder, who stayed at the Claridge Hotel under that name and at the Maryland as Berg.

"Hired" them to organize lodges and to select corner sites for chain stores. The check, elaborately printed but quite worthless, was advanced for traveling expenses, the "employer" taking only $35 in real money to arrange for railroad transportation.

Woman Hurt Leaping From Flames

PANA, Ill., Sept. 10.—The generally fireproof store of John W. Christian at Rosemond, four miles west of Pana, was destroyed by fire early today, together with the postoffice. The second floor was occupied as a Masonic hall.

Mrs. John McCall, occupying part of the hall as a residence, leaped from the building and was critically injured. The Pana Fire Department assisted in saving adjoining buildings. The loss is $12,000, partly covered by insurance.

Statutory Requirements to

"EMANCIPATION BONDS" TO BE SOLD

ceipts for Contributions Bearing Portraits of National Candidates.

The Liberal party of Missouri—the La Follette group—a recognized political factor since its provisional convention here July 28, went through the formalities here yesterday of becoming organized under the requirements of law.

Confidence of success—greater than was the original hope—of the third party movement was marked by the four meetings held.
The Liberals at first thought they would be able to throw the presidential election into Congress, but now they think they can win at the polls. The party in Missouri has been taking down the proceedings, in effect invalidating them so far. The Court sustained Wise's point that the presence of "outsiders" was in violation of the law.

Roberts said the present proceedings would be abandoned, but that a new start would be made later.

TANGLED MARITAL KNOTS
PUZZLE NEW YORK JUDGE

Wife Has Two Husbands and Two Husbands Each Have Two Wives.

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, Sept. 10.—Two men and three women presented a very tangled marital knot yesterday when Judge McIntire set Sept.
19 for sentence of Stewart Clinton, an accountant, who pleaded guilty to abandoning his 2-year-old daughter, Frances.

Frances' mother, Mrs. Lillian O'Brien Clinton, was accused by Clinton of marrying him while her first husband, Herbert F. Gecks, who, she had said, was dead, still was living. Gecks said he in turn had married a Boston girl, thinking Mrs. Clinton, or Gecks, had obtained a divorce.

Clinton then added to the puzzle by announcing he had, after leaving Mrs. Gecks, or Clinton, thinking his marriage to her was illegal, married Barbara St. Clair, a dancer, in Baltimore.

"It would take a Solomon to unravel this tangle," said Judge Mc-Intire. "I will send the facts to the District Attorney."

ROBERTS SAYS MORE EVIDENCE ON FALL HAS COME TO LIGHT

Makes Statement When Fall's Attorney Attempts to Stop New Grand Jury Inquiry.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.—Additional evidence and witnesses in the case of Albert B. Fall and others, charged with defrauding the Government in the naval oil leases, have been brought to light since the original grand jury inquiry. Owen J. Roberts, who with Atlee Pomerene, is conducting the case as the Government's special counsel, said yesterday.

Roberts' statement was made in connection with an unsuccessful plea by Henry Wise, Fall's attorney, to Justice Suddens of the District Supreme Court for an injunction on the new grand jury inquiry being conducted by the Government counsel. Roberts declined to reveal, even to the Court, the purpose of the investigation.

Wise protested that the new inquiry was a "fishing expedition," in connection with an indictment returned previously against Fall, Harry F. Sinclair, Edward L.
Doheny and Edward L. Doheny Jr.
"Mr. Fall is anxious to go to trial," Wise said. "Let the Government show its good faith by trying to obtain a conviction on the indicements already returned—and not continue to harass Mr. Fall first and try him afterwards. We are after a verdict of not guilty and we are going to get it."

Justice Suddens said there was no proof that Messrs. Pomerene and Roberts were misusing the grand jury, but ruled out from the grand jury room the stenographer, who has been taking down the proceedings, in effect invalidating them so
far. The Court sustained Wise's point that the presence of "outsiders" was in violation of the law.

Roberts said the present proceedings would be abandoned, but

COLE BLEASE WINS SENATE NOMINATION

Former Governor of South Carolina Retains Lead in Runoff Primary.

By the Associated Press.
COLUMBIA, S. C., Sept. 10.—
With only 43 of the State's 1854 precincts unreported, former Governor Cole L. Blease today was clinging to his narrow margin over Representative James F. Byrnes for the nomination to the United States Senate in the Democratic run-off primary yesterday.

On the basis of Blease's lead of 1728 votes. The State, which has opposed his candidacy, predicted that the missing precincts would not give his opponent enough votes to win and that the former Governor had been nominated to succeed Senator Nathan B. Dial, who was eliminated in the first primary two weeks ago.

The vote stood Blease 57,552, Byrnes 55,954.

Ransdell Apparently Renominated in Louisiana.

By the Associated Press.
NEW ORLEANS, La., Sept. 10.—
Senator Joseph E. Ransdell, of Lake Providence, apparently was renominated in yesterday's Democratic primary by a majority of more than 25,000 over Lee Thomas, Mayor of Shreveport, according to unofficial returns today.

Returns from approximately 1000 precincts out of the State's 3210, including New Orleans, gave Ransdell 75,977, Thomas 52,955.
The vote in New Orleans was Ran-sdell 36,744, Thomas 18,107.

A feature of the senatorial campaign was the charge by the Thomas forces that Senator Ran-sdell, in a speech at Thibodaux, a Southern Louisiana city, had urged the people to send their children to parochial schools. Senator Ran-sdell denied having made such a statement, contending that press reports of his address were incorrect.

DEPOSITORS OFFER FUNDS TO PROSECUTE BANK CASHIER

Residents of Auxvasse, Mo., Confer With Millspough Regarding Liquidation of Closed Depository.

JEFFERSON CITY, Sept. 10.—A delegation of a dozen depositors of the defunct Auxvasse Bank of Auxvasse, Callaway County, called on State Finance Commissioner Millspough here today to offer co-operation with the department in liquidation of the bank, and announced they were ready to furnish financial assistance toward prosecution of the seven indictments pending against F. C. Stokes, cashier of the bank.

As has been told, the bank was closed by Stokes himself July 1 last, and the Finance Department asked to take charge. Examination disclosed that Stokes had notes in the bank totaling $77,730, representing funds he had borrowed at intervals for several years. The greater part of these loans were made by Stokes to himself without the knowledge of the directors, it was alleged.

Stokes, who received a salary of $2000 a year, had looked after virtually all the details of management of the bank and the directors said they accepted his reports without question. Sentiment at Auxvasse is strong for prosecution of the indictments, members of the delegation said.

Stokes' embezzlement of amounts totaling $16,500 and four indictments charge Stokes with assisting to receiving deposits when the bank was in a failing condition. His first trial on the charges is scheduled for Oct. 1, at Warrenton, and several of the charges are set for trial Oct.
13, at Fulton.

Rev. Alexander Paul, recently renamed from the Orient, will take

FIVE FORMER ARMY OFFICERS COMMISSIONED IN GUARD

Men Who Served in World War Named by Hyde and Assigned Commands.

Five former army officers who served during the World War were commissioned in the Missouri Na-and assigned to commands with the 18th Infantry, St. Louis National Guard unit. The officers, with their rank and assignments are as follows:

W. F. Beasley, Captain, Company
H; L. E. Meyer, First Lieutenant, Company M; Andrew Cooley, First Lieutenant, Adjutant, Second Battalion; Charles B. Gunn, First Lieutenant, Company B, and Wal-demar Christofferson, Second Lieutenant, Company B. Capt. Beasley and Lieut. Cooley each saw eight years' service in the army prior to the World War, and four and three years, respectively, during that conflict.

Others who have been recommended for commissions as Captains in the 18th Infantry are Robert Goddard and Capt. Gail B.
Mansfield, a former officer of the Thirty-seventh Artillery.

Maj. R. S. Fifield, Capt. Beasley,
Capt. Archie D. Alley and Lieut.
S. W. Greaves have been appointed as a committee to submit plans for a series of dances and entertainments to be given by the 18th at the Armory. An athletic officer will be appointed soon to organize basketball, handball, track and swimming teams, and competitions will be arranged with outside organizations, as well as among various units of the regiment.

GOES TO ARCTIC FOR ESKIMO SLAYER

Justice Travels 3000 Miles and Sentences 16-Year-Old Prisoner to Five Years.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
MONTREAL, Canada, Sept. 10.—The arm of the law has stretched out from the Canadian capital to the Arctic Ocean to grasp an offender.

There have been few stranger trials than that of an Eskimo, who was tried two months ago for the murder of a brother of his tribe. The court convened one night in July at 8 o'clock in the evening and sat continuously through the night until 6 o'clock the next morning. The sitting of the court was on board the Canadian Government steamer "Distributor," and no lights were needed for the night session, for it was the land of the midnight sun. The judicial party traveled more than 3000 miles to hold the trial.

Many Spectators at Trial.
There were many spectators, who had traveled hundreds of miles to see how the white man administered justice, and they went away impressed with the fairness of the proceedings. In many igloos the story of the trial is the subject of conversation.

Ikaluplak, a copper Eskimo, a youth of only 16, was the prisoner. The murdered man was Havougach of the same race and tribe as Ikaluplak, and the tragedy took place 90 miles from Tree River, on the Arctic Circle, Nov. 15, 1921. The trial was held July 5, this year, nearly three years after the crime, and, in the intervening months, the Royal Canadian Mounted Police tracked their man down, and with tireless patience, marshaled the evidence against him.

Ikaluplak, according to the evidence, had been taken in as a member of their family by Havougach and his wife, Whattish, who was attracted by the young man. Havougach became jealous. Each feared attack from the other as they went about their daily tasks. Finally, on the day when the two men had gone from the snow houses of the family camp, to the frozen meat camp, the tragedy occurred. It was argued by the defense that the prisoner had gone out unarmed, while Havougach carried a knife and a gun. However, Havougach was found with a bullet in his head. Ikaluplak, it was said, voluntarily accompanied Havougach's relatives to the police detachment, a distance of from five to ten days' journey, where he was placed under arrest. Ikaluplak became the husband of the dead man's wife. He and Whattish lived happily together, it is said, and a child was born to them. The child died before the trial.

White Man's Justice Done.
The Judge finds the young prisoner guilty, and sentences him to five years in the penitentiary of Stony Mountain, in Manitoba. The party halts for a few days for the transshipment of supplies to the posts of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, and then starts back—Judge, clerk of the court, stenographer, police and prisoner—and the white man's justice has been done.

Warrant for Schollmeyer.
William A. Schollmeyer, saloon keeper and former clerk in the supply department of the Board of Education, was charged with the theft of an automobile owned by Dr. George R. Reidelman, and with Jefferson, in a warrant issued yesterday. Schollmeyer, against whom several similar charges are pending, was arrested by detectives after a chase Monday night.

Treated for Mercury Poisoning.
Charles Britt, 25 years old, of 4148 Greenleaf place, proprietor of a restaurant on Fair avenue, was taken to city hospital last night to be treated for mercury poisoning. Britt had complained of feeling ill and had taken some aspirin earlier in the day. It is believed he took the mercury by mistake later for the aspirin. His condition was said to be serious.

More than Half are Women

More than 4000 St. Louisans are partners in Cahokia and more than half are women. Approximately 1000 women are partners with their husbands in ownership of Cahokia stock, but even a larger number are women who hold Cahokia alone in their own names.

These facts are significant. They indicate that family savings—the fruit of thrift—are going into Cahokia 6%, because dividends and principal are super safe. They indicate that women, many of whom must get livelihood from the earnings on small capital, have sought Cahokia because they can be sure of a steady income.

In fact, nearly all investors in Cahokia are St. Louisans of limited means—savers who seek safety above everything else when making an investment. The average purchase of stock is six shares per person—$600.

How safe are your savings and how much do they earn? If they earn less than 6%, you are losing money. The officers of this company believe that, safety of principal and dividends considered, St. Louisans can find no better investment than Cahokia 6%.

Events that Make Cahokia more attractive than ever

A St. Louis broker advertised in newspapers for a week that he would pay $104 a share for Preferred Stock of Union Electric Light and Power Co.

There are 90,000 shares of that stock in the hands of approximately 10,000 St. Louisans. They paid $100 a share for their stock, so that the broker was offering them a profit of $4 on each share they held.

He Obtained Only A Small Number

Why? Because holders of the stock realized that it would be hard for them to find any other place so safe, so profitable to invest their money. Purchasers of Union Electric Preferred Stock have come to regard it as something to be held permanently, because it yields regular, liberal dividends. They have come to have confidence in the company, and, having confidence, they decline to surrender their partnership in it.

Money is cheap now. Yet Cahokia can be bought to yield 6%. The price is par, $100 a share for cash.

GOLTRA WANTS AN ACCOUNTING WITH U.S.

Application Based on Operation of Fleet of River Craft Seized by War Department.

Edward F. Goltra, Iron manufacturer and former Missouri Democratic National Committeeman, appeared today before Federal Judge Farris and filed an application for an order on the War Department for an accounting for the operation of the Goltra fleet of four towboats and 19 barges during the period from March 25, 1935, when the fleet was seized by Brigadier-General Ashburn, until it was restored to Goltra upon the injunction order of the Court last week.

Goltra called attention to the fact that supplies valued at $4421 which had been stored on the boats, had been used. He asked that they be included in the accounting.

The accounting was asked for in accordance with the terms of an order issued by Justice Vandeventer of the United States Supreme Court, who, in declining to issue a writ of prohibition which would have set aside the injunction, ordered that an accounting be made in case the injunction later was dissolved or the fleet returned to Goltra.

Judge Farris said he would take no action on the application at present, but directed counsel for Goltra to serve written notice of the application on the counsel for the Government. He would then set a date for hearing.

Goltra said he would operate the barge fleet if the War Department places no obstacle in his way. It will be recalled that Judge Farris yesterday ordered Goltra to have two towboats and 14 barges in operation by Oct. 1, or he would consider the Government's application for a receiver.

St. Louis' Greatest Selling Force for Real Estate

Real Estate Advertisers, in 1923, broke away from time-tattered precedent—which is often a dangerous guide—and joined that great group of successful, modern advertisers in other lines who concentrate their advertising in the Post-Dispatch.

During the first eight months of 1924 Real Estate Advertisers used 870,800 agate lines in the Post-Dispatch, which was 89,300 lines more than the second newspaper, and almost as much as the second and third newspapers added together.

The Post-Dispatch carries far more individual Real Estate Advertisements—by actual count—than ALL OTHER ST. LOUIS NEWSPAPERS COMBINED.

The Reason: The City Circulation of the Sunday Post-Dispatch is approximately 80% more than that of the other Sunday newspaper. The City Circulation of the Daily Post-Dispatch exceeds that of the morning and one other evening newspaper COMBINED.

ETTING RICHARDS TO PLAY IN SINGLES IN DAVIS CUP CHALLENGE ROUND

Wills Must Box, Not Fight Firpo, Leonard States

Pro's Chance of Victory Lies in His Science, Lightweight Champion Says

Six or seven years ago I used to watch him as he worked out in the gymnasium, where both of us were training. I shadow-boxed and footed around with him and tried to copy his footwork and some of his boxing tricks. He was a wonderful boxer then. He will need all the old time and cleverness he can muster when he gets into the ring with Firpo on Thursday. Harry's chance of winning, it seems to me, is to box the Wild Bull, to Firpo's wild rushes with jab hooks.

If the big negro tries to stand to Firpo and outlast, beat him in his own game, then I prophesy Harry will win. Harry is going to himself on the canvas in short order. He may get up once or twice, but not many times.

"Wills Fairly Old." Wills is 32, fairly old for a fighter, and has been in a few bouts the last three or four years. But I believe, I believe, is only as old to a certain point, as the point of punishment he gets in the ring. For instance, was battered of the ring when he was 20. "Harry Wills' speed and cleverness have kept him from getting badly mauled. He has lived clean, ought to have that speed and cleverness still if he has trained right, and from newspaper reports in his camp at Southampton, L. I. gather he has. Harry is too old to be under or over-matched."

"But I have watched Harry in the last few fights throw overboard his best tricks and try to change style. That was particularly noticeable in his bout with Bartley Allen."

Best Blow An Uppercut. "He fought flat-footed, casting a boxing ability to the winds in an effort to land a knockout punch. And Wills has a punch, although nothing like that of the Wild Bull. His best blow is a right punch, delivered with power and precision. Bill Tate and Jack Townsend, Firpo's sparring partners, can testify to that."

"I have stated that Firpo has developed a left. I do not think it will trouble Wills. Harry has fought such clever men as Joe Gans and Sam McVey in his time and knows what to do when he sees the Wild Bull's left coming toward him. It is Firpo's right that Wills must fear and fear greatly."

Olympic Title Winner Picked Over Johnston

Will Meet in First Cup Match Tomorrow

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 10.—WILLIAM T. TILDEN, Australian, will be the first opponent in the first challenge round for the Davis Cup, which starts tomorrow. Tilden will play Vincent Richards of New York, who won the title last year. The match will be played at the University City Club, Philadelphia, tomorrow. Richards will meet Patterson of New York in the second round.

NEW YORK, Sept. 10.—Vincent Richards of New York, N. Y., and William M. Johnston of San Francisco, in the East-West challenge round, will play tomorrow. Richards will play Patterson of New York, who won the title last year. The match will be played at the University City Club, Philadelphia, tomorrow. Richards will meet Patterson of New York in the second round.

At the same time it was announced that Tilden and William Johnston will compose the United States doubles team against Patterson and Wood. Richards' selection, while not entirely unexpected, comes as a surprise in some quarters despite the impressiveness of Richards' triumph over Johnston in the national championship, which started tomorrow. William T. Tilden, national champion, who, with Vincent Richards of New York, Olympic champion, will meet the Australians in the first round. Richards has been on the courts almost daily and was reported at the top of his game.

Final Practice Today. PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 10.—The American defenders and the Australian challengers were expected at the Germantown Cricket Club today for final practice in preparation for the Davis Cup tennis matches, which start tomorrow. William T. Tilden, national champion, who, with Vincent Richards of New York, Olympic champion, will meet the Australians in the first round. Richards has been on the courts almost daily and was reported at the top of his game.

Harold Gains Victory. NEW YORK, Sept. 10.—Kid Norfolk, New York, negro light heavyweight title holder, outpointed Jack McCarthy of Boston, in a ten-round bout here last night. The bout was not involved, since McCarthy was over weight.

JOE and ASBESTOS—Joe Is In for a Cruise "Up the River"

Pirates' Offense and Defense Crack Against Rickey's Men

Corsairs Pull Poor Plays on Bases and in Field as Cardinals Win Two — Pittsburg Club Now Three Games Behind Pacemaking Giants.

By Herman Wecke. If the Pittsburg Pirates are to make a serious bid for the National League pennant in the stretch drive, the club will have to play better ball than was exhibited yesterday, when the Cardinals made off with both ends of a twin bill by scores of 7 to 4 and 6 to 4. That double reverse hurt the Buccaneers' pennant chances, dropping them three games behind the pace-making Giants.

Bill McKechnie's pitchers—he used two of his best bets yesterday—faltered in the clashes with the Rickeymen. Not only that, but the defense cracked at critical stages while there also were several poor plays on the defense. This was especially true in the closing battle, when the Pirates literally blew "higher than a kite" after they had gotten away to a margin of two runs.

Emil Yde, the left hander, who has been one of the sensations of the season, having won 13 games and lost but one, faced the locals in the first encounter. Yde labored but four rounds, but in that time, the Rickeyites had put over enough markers to wrap up the old ball game for Allan Sothoron. Yde's failure to get the ball past "Chick" Hefey, the young outfielder, recently obtained from Houston, cost him the ball game. All Hefey did while Yde was on duty was to drive in four mates and score two runs himself.

Pirates Up in the Air. It was solid hitting that won for the Rickeymen in this tilt. But in the second game, it was the cracking of the Corsair defense and "dumb" plays on the offense that beat Johnny Morrison, one of the best curve ball pitchers in the Heydler circuit. And it was baseball of a caliber that will not get the team anywhere in tough battles with clubs like the Giants and Dodgers, the two aggregations ahead of the Men of McKechnie in the flag struggle.

Behind Morrison, the Corsairs defense started to crack in the first round. With a run in and men on second and third, Traynor made a mess of an easy roller from Hefey and the knotting count came over for the Cardinals. It was even worse in the third, when the Cards went ahead. Wright first missed an easy roller, and then when Cuyler also fumbled, and the tally that put the Rickeyites ahead came across the rubber. Those were the defense mistakes.

On the offense, Traynor was picked off first in the fourth with his club one run behind. However, the prize of them all ended the contest. With the tying runs on the bases, Carey sent a liner to Smith. Jack made a quick and true return to the plate that held Bigbee, a fast man, on third. But Moore, on second, put his head down and started for third, though Bigbee and the coach waved him back. It resulted in a runup and Hornsby, after taking the toss from Clemons, chased Moore to third and when Bigbee stepped off the far corner he was tagged out by the world's champion light of the 1924 campaign.

Strategy Proves Tricky. Strategy, that turned out to be tragedy for the Pirates, marked the opening round of the first game. With Smith on second, Yde purposely passed Hornsby. He failed to get the ball over for Bottomley and the first sacker also walked to fill the bases. Then up stepped young Hefey and belted a lustrous triple to right, scoring three mates. Young Douthett sent young Hefey across with a single. In the third young Hefey came up with Blades on after Hornsby and Bottomley had been retired and blasted one into the sun seats in right field. In the seventh, young Hefey was credited with a sacrifice fly when Moore in right made a lazy throw to the plate and Hornsby sneaked home from third. Sothoron pitched good ball except in the fourth and eighth, in each of which the Pirates bunched three hits for two runs. In all, Sothoron was found for nine runs, two in each the first and eighth being bunched for the Bu-

Central's Status Still in Doubt

School Board Committee Decides Not to Act in Athletic Controversy.

The question of whether Central High School will return as a competitor in the Intercholastic Athletic League remains in abeyance pending a meeting of the principals of the high schools, Stephen A. Douglas, principal of Central indicated today.

Late yesterday, a special committee of the Board of Education reported that it would recommend that no action be taken by the board in the high school athletic controversy growing out of the Thomas case last spring which resulted in the cancellation of Central's football championship won in the fall of last year. Central, maintaining that this retroactive action was contrary to the provisions of the league constitution, withdrew its athletic teams and indicated that it would not compete in the league unless redress was had.

Since training for football will be started immediately at the schools, a decision regarding Central's status will probably be reached very shortly.

Walker and Barrett to Meet on Sept. 29

NEWARK, N. J., Sept. 10.—Mickey Walker, welterweight champion of the world, will go through his fight with Bobby Barrett, of Philadelphia, scheduled Sept. 29 in that city, regardless of the New York Boxing Commission's recent edict that he should meet Dave Shade first, Joseph Degan, Walker's manager, announced last night.

Indicated that it would not compete in the league unless redress was had. Since training for football will be started immediately at the schools, a decision regarding Central's status will probably be reached very shortly.

Goldberg Signed to Meet Kaiser. Eddie Kaiser and Eddie Goldberg, rival claimants of local championship laurels in the amateur bantam class, will meet in the feature bout of an outdoor boxing tournament to be staged under the auspices of the Business Men's A. C. next Wednesday night as the season's grand finale at the Battery arena. The bout was booked yesterday by Matchmaker Harry Cook who had been trying for the past four months to land this attractive event for one of his Battery cards.

The French horse, being brought along easily by Trainer Leigh, worked the mile in his latest test in 1:44 2-5. My Own surprised his trainer in a faster trial than was intended, doing the distance in 1:40 2-5. Ladkin, which ran third in the six furlong at Belmont, was the round in 1:44.

It is doubtful at the present time whether Wise Counsellor will be ridden at Aqueduct by Frankie Keough, who brought the colt home so splendidly in the six furlong race at Belmont. Keough is slated to return to France to fulfill engagements, but attempts are being made to have him remain here until after the second special.

Grey Lag, now a 6-year-old, was brought out from retirement to meet Epinard at the mile distance and has worked so satisfactorily that he is now regarded as the most formidable opponent of the French champion.

Stribling Stops Glickner. COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 10.—With-out extending him, Young Stribling, youthful Georgia boxer, knocked out Glenn Glickner of Zanesville, O., in the second round of their scheduled 12-round bout here last night. Ever master of the situation, Stribling floored his opponent for the count soon after the opening of the second round with a sweeping right to the head.

RAIN STOPS BATTLE AROUND SHANGHAI

Rice and Cotton Fields Turn to Quagmires Under Feet of Opposing Armies.

SHANGHAI, Sept. 10.—There was every indication that fighting would be halted today by a resumption of the driving rains. The whole fighting zone is a mass of waterways and the flooded waters have converted the cotton and rice fields into quagmires.

A painstaking investigation by those associated with the fighting units of both sides warrants the assurance that those foreigners who remain in the fighting zones are not in danger.

Both sides are under the strictest orders to refrain from looting or hostile acts against foreigners under penalty of death. A considerable number of executions have taken place already in the fighting zones.

There is not the remotest trace of anti-foreign sentiment in the fighting forces, the investigations revealed.

A Japanese News Agency dispatch received here today from Canton reports that Dr. Sun Yat-sen, ally of Lie Yung Hsiang, Military Governor of Chekiang Province, intends to proceed with his army to Shachwan, to move northward into Kiangsu Province with 2000 troops.

Refugees Arriving in Shanghai at Rate of 8000 a Day.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.—Conditions in Shanghai and elsewhere in the civil war zone in China were described in dispatches received at the State Department today from Edward Bell, American charge d'affaires at Peking, Edward S. Cunningham, Consul General at Shanghai and Raymond P. Tenney, Consul at Mukden.

Except for the financial stringency and nervousness of the Chinese, Cunningham reported, conditions in Shanghai are normal, with refugees continuing to arrive at the rate of 6000 to 7000 daily and the hospitals receiving hundreds of Chekiang wounded.

The food supply, he said, is adequate for the present, and arrangements are being made for the care of the refugees, who have been pouring into the city since Aug. 29.

The morale of both contending Chinese armies was said by Cunningham to be described as excellent. The nearest point of fighting, he related, apparently was about nine miles from Shanghai. Tenney's message declared Marshal Chang Tso-Lin had assured

The Council at Mukden that the rights and safety of foreigners would be guaranteed.

Polarine

THE PERFECT MOTOR OIL

Made in Five Grades

Is Only 2% of Your Operating Expense—But

—Perhaps you do not stop to realize that that 2%, small as it seems, is a big factor when it comes to depreciation 30%, repairs 30% and fuel 15%—all of them are affected by that little 2% for oil.

Startling, isn't it?

Polarine will save you gasoline—save a large percentage of repairs—reduce depreciation—and increase the resale value of your equipment.

Thousands of fleet owners, who run taxis, busses or trucks for profit and who must keep accurate detailed operating cost records, pay close attention to lubrication. These business men figure cost of repairs, lost time, cost of fuel and every other item of expense. The price of oil may be a consideration, but the efficiency of the lubrication effected is the controlling factor. Because it keeps down all operating costs, these men use Polarine.

Correct lubrication is a prime essential—poor lubrication is false economy—and particularly so, now when science has perfected Polarine, an oil made in five grades, to meet all conditions.

Polarine maintains its body at the operating temperature of your engine. The type of lubrication and cooling system; its piston clearance and general design, all have been taken into consideration.

Consult the chart. The right grade of Polarine specified for your car will minimize carbon deposit and will form a perfect film between the frictional surfaces—a film which resists both heat and wear.

Fill up with Polarine now. Drain your crankcase every 500 miles and refill with fresh Polarine.

Don't abuse a good machine. Oil is cheaper than cylinders and bearings.

REACTIONARY TENDENCIES IN MARKET

By Leonard Wire From the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, Sept. 10.—The reactionary tendencies against the principal financial markets were under way from the start. Recent advances having weakened the technical position of the bears again, the market was under a temporary rally, but there was follow up to the buying and the market again sagged during the afternoon.

Declines were fairly general on the list and although there were some improvements, just before the close the main body of stocks was fractionally lower on the day. The sentiment in the street is by no means entirely bearish, but the recent advance has made the market particularly sensitive to unfavorable developments, such as dividend omissions and such.

Foreign Exchange Reaction. "Moderate reaction following yesterday's advance in the European market, reinforcing the new yesterday's brisk rally was principally to a natural rebalancing of the buying, particularly over a month, the buying, particularly of francs and sterling, was stimulated by reports of credit France in case they were required.

The volume of business transacted was well below that of the previous day. Sterling moved up over a day in the early trading and dropped back, showing a net loss of 1/4 at 144. French francs up 1/4 points at 52 1/4 cents, an early gain of 3/4 points. Europeans followed the same pattern, with Canadian dollars sold at discount after having held at or above for nearly two weeks.

Car Loadings Gain. "Had the trend of prices in the day reflected the index news a strong market might have been expected. To begin with, railroads reported freight loadings for the last week in August in excess of a million cars. This is the first time since last autumn, car loadings have exceeded the figure. While a large part of the increase was accounted for by heavy movement of grain, merchandise and miscellaneous loadings also showed substantial gain. Freight car loadings of the five weeks ended Aug. 29, in fact, only 1 per cent below record volume of last year.

Steel Orders Increase. "Attracting more attention than the car loading report was monthly statement of unfilled orders of the United States Steel corporation. Unfilled business for the books as of Aug. 31 amounted to 1,393,177 tons. This figure, true, is extremely low, but it represents a gain of 102,905 tons over the previous month and in the increase reported since early year. Moreover, in view of generally accepted belief that the steel trade is in a state of a surprise, it had thought that despite the heavy buying in August there was corresponding increase in orders. Larger mill operations, therefore, have increased confidence with a consequent weak of price. Pig iron on the market has made further improvement.

Oil Production Blockade. "Other factors which on these were favorable were prices for raw sugar and rubber and a demand of approximately 10,000 barrels in the late of crude oil production the week. This is the second consecutive decrease in oil production together with the expectation the trade that August monthly figures will show a reduction of 400,000,000 barrels in stocks. This has accounted for the rise to rally the oil market. On the other side of the picture, the large consumption of gas has caused and stocks are at heights for this season of the while production is excessive. It would be indeed surprising if some further action were not made in prices before end of the year. Such action would, from the long range of view, be salutary.

Wheat, Cotton, Corn and Coffee. "Cotton traders apparently coming to a fuller appreciation of the meaning of the latest estimates of the crop, which state that supplies of the world would be such as to cause a scramble on the part of buyers. Hedge and southern buyers were too much for the market buying which came on the scale down during the previous session, rather than a late price of 22.25 cents in the future was 10 points.

Hedge and southern buyers were too much for the market buying which came on the scale down during the previous session, rather than a late price of 22.25 cents in the future was 10 points.

Investment. "The reactionary tendencies in the principal financial markets were under way from the start. Recent advances having weakened the technical position of the bears again, the market was under a temporary rally, but there was follow up to the buying and the market again sagged during the afternoon.

Declines were fairly general on the list and although there were some improvements, just before the close the main body of stocks was fractionally lower on the day. The sentiment in the street is by no means entirely bearish, but the recent advance has made the market particularly sensitive to unfavorable developments, such as dividend omissions and such.

Foreign Exchange Reaction. "Moderate reaction following yesterday's advance in the European market, reinforcing the new yesterday's brisk rally was principally to a natural rebalancing of the buying, particularly over a month, the buying, particularly of francs and sterling, was stimulated by reports of credit France in case they were required.

The volume of business transacted was well below that of the previous day. Sterling moved up over a day in the early trading and dropped back, showing a net loss of 1/4 at 144. French francs up 1/4 points at 52 1/4 cents, an early gain of 3/4 points. Europeans followed the same pattern, with Canadian dollars sold at discount after having held at or above for nearly two weeks.

Car Loadings Gain. "Had the trend of prices in the day reflected the index news a strong market might have been expected. To begin with, railroads reported freight loadings for the last week in August in excess of a million cars. This is the first time since last autumn, car loadings have exceeded the figure. While a large part of the increase was accounted for by heavy movement of grain, merchandise and miscellaneous loadings also showed substantial gain. Freight car loadings of the five weeks ended Aug. 29, in fact, only 1 per cent below record volume of last year.

Steel Orders Increase. "Attracting more attention than the car loading report was monthly statement of unfilled orders of the United States Steel corporation. Unfilled business for the books as of Aug. 31 amounted to 1,393,177 tons. This figure, true, is extremely low, but it represents a gain of 102,905 tons over the previous month and in the increase reported since early year. Moreover, in view of generally accepted belief that the steel trade is in a state of a surprise, it had thought that despite the heavy buying in August there was corresponding increase in orders. Larger mill operations, therefore, have increased confidence with a consequent weak of price. Pig iron on the market has made further improvement.

RUSSIAN EDICT PERMITS LIMITED USE OF RADIO

Fans Can Receive Only Informative Matter From Government Stations; $3 Annual Tax.

By the Associated Press.

MOSCOW, Sept. 10.—Radio broadcasting was introduced to the Russian public for the first time yesterday, when the Council of People's Commissars issued a decree permitting the manufacture and use, under the supervision of the Commissariat of Posts and Telegraphs, of commercial and home-made receiving sets.

Radio users will be charged a license fee of $3 a year, working men will pay only $1.50 annually, while soldiers and officers of the Red army will be taxed 50 cents a year.

The public is permitted to receive only general broadcasting matter sent out by Government stations, including informative speeches, reports, concerts, weather bulletins and time signals, but it is forbidden to intercept or to use for private purposes official Government matter or information.

intended for the press. It also is restricted from picking matter disseminated by foreign wireless stations. Every radio set must be submitted to the Postoffice Department for a technical examination before a license is issued. Concerts are already being broadcast to the public from the grand opera house at Moscow. Other broadcasting stations will be established as rapidly as equipment can be obtained.

Brakeman Killed in Train Crash.
By the Associated Press.
OCCONEE, Neb., Sept. 10.—When two Union Pacific freight trains met in a head-on collision here yesterday, Ray-Fall Sheridan of Platt Center, Neb., brakeman on one of the trains, was killed and Harry Pieharty, Democratic candidate for Attorney-General, was injured. Pieharty was riding on the freight as a passenger. Sheridan, riding in the cab of the engine, was caught between the tender and the engine and crushed to death.

FALL STYLE & QUALITY DEMONSTRATION

At Prices That Save You One-Third!

Our reputation for value-giving has never been challenged. Now we inaugurate the new Fall season with a demonstration to prove that, not only savings, but quality, finest tailoring and approved styles are present in all of our offerings. In selecting this season's stock, we have insisted on the most desirable of the season's styles. Better fabrics, superior hand-tailoring, finer linings and trimmings, popular shades, favored designs... all were carefully considered. And overshadowing all else, are the six prominent features that have always been our customers' guarantee of lower prices.

1. We buy for cash only, in the open market.
2. We sell for cash only.
3. We give no discounts, trading stamps, souvenirs or free deals.
4. We turn our stock often at minimum profit on each turnover.
5. We have no fancy and expensive fixtures.
6. We specialize in clothing only.

Here is an opportunity for all men and young men to dress better for less—in clothing as fine as any they've ever worn. Surely you will want to investigate a proposition that offers as much as this. Come to our great establishment—see our windows—examine our selections. We will be pleased to show you.

New Fall and Winter Suits

Latest Style Developments for Men, Young Men and Youths

To offer clothing in such quantity and in such variety that every man and young man can find just the Suit he wants—that is our aim in this event. Wonderful selections have been secured. English models with loose coats, blunt-cut vests and wide trousers are shown in the new powder blues, English lavenders, dove grays and other desirable shades. Dark pencil stripes, tartan plaids, checks and mixtures are included in stylish American models. Also the standard serges and worsteds in effects for older men. One and Two Pant Suits in all groups except the $11.75 and $35.75 ranges. Stubs, slims and stouts in almost all groups.

CHAPTER 19.

IVAN'S operation was a complete success. Dr. Danby telephoned the anxious family, waiting in the library at Soundview, his son and Mrs. Boice-Neve had actually remained home from a bridge luncheon in deference to the event, that he had no less assurance that the work of the great surgeon who had performed the operation that Ivan would sing again and shortly.

Lella celebrated the good news with a round of parties that cost Marjorie a pretty penny. Mrs. Boice-Neve aided and abetted her in the extravagance.

"You see, I'm really under obligations to everyone," Lella explained with maddest hypocrisy. "And of course, while poor dear Ivan was ill, it wouldn't have been just the thing to entertain."

She quite overlooked the fact that she hadn't missed a dinner or dance or tea herself during Ivan's illness.

But Marjorie was too happy and relieved over her brother-in-law's good fortune to complain if Lella was using her hospitality shabbily. She was busy engaged in planning for the future. As soon as Ivan was on his feet, she decided, then she would announce her long-deferred plan to Mrs. Boice-Neve and Dan. When the storm had blown itself out and she was free of Hollister's hateful charity, she would marry Tom.

Lella took Ivan convalescent at last, to Florida to complete his recuperation. Marjorie paid the bills without protest. It was shortly after their arrival at Miami that Lella wrote asking her to go to Dr. Danby on some errand with regard to a prescription.

The door of the doctor's waiting room was ajar, when Marjorie located his suite of offices in a smart uptown apartment building. The young woman who presided there had obviously deserted her post temporarily.

Marjorie, stepping back and glancing at the small letters inscribed on the glass of the door, discovered that the doctor's office hours were just over. She hesitated a moment on the threshold, and then, hearing his voice in an adjoining room, decided to wait until the patient who was inside departed, and he discovered her there. He could probably spare her the few minutes that her errand required.

But after a minute she discovered that it was not a patient to whom he was speaking. He was apparently talking over the phone. "I got your secretary's note about the check this morning, Mr. Hollister," he was saying. "But I thought I'd better ring you and talk to you personally considering the secrecy of this case. As you suggested in your letter, I agree that it would be better not to send your personal check to Dr. Fordyce, so that you will not be connected in any way with the affair. I can have a draft sent through the Foundation to which your check contributed so generously in the past.... No trouble at all, I assure you—What?—Splendidly, very gratifying. He has just reached Miami...."

Dr. Danby's voice went on, but Marjorie was no longer listening. She sat staring straight before her, her red underlip caught in her teeth until the blood came, her gloved hands tight in her lap.

So that was the secret of the mysterious patron whose interest in science had made possible Ivan's return to health and hope! Read Hollister! He might have known! What a fool she had been to swallow Dr. Danby's incredible story! How could she ever have accepted it as plausible!

It was Read Hollister, her husband, who once again had put her and her family in the class of charity.

Her face burned with shame, with stinging pride, she had been spared the ordeal of personally asking Hollister for assistance, but she felt no distinguishing virtue in the manner through which she had become recipient.

When Dr. Danby finished his conversation and entered the reception room, he started uneasily at sight of the slim figure in rich furs that occupied a corner of a divan.

"Why, Mrs. Hollister, what a surprise! I didn't know—the girl didn't say anyone was here!"

His professional poise was decidedly shaken.

"Sorry to have kept you waiting. I was—er—telephoning about a very bad case."

"Dr. Danby," Marjorie was standing before him, her grave eyes compelling him, "will you tell me the truth? Wasn't it my husband—who provided the means for my brother-in-law's operation? I heard just enough in there, she gestured with a gloved hand toward the inner office. "It would be kinder to tell me."

He looked very embarrassed, but he could not resist her earnestness.

"If you will have the truth, then, it was Mr. Hollister, who provided. But he swore me to secrecy. He has been a patron of science for many years. It was not extraordinary that he should wish to see this case through. Indeed, he has interested himself in most obscure cases—er—cases," he checked himself in time—he had been about to say "charity cases."

SAYINGS OF MRS. SOLOMON

By HELEN ROWLAND

THE WAY OF IT.

CONSIDER, my Daughter, the way of the heart of a woman—and the way of the heart of a man.

For lo, each is an "organ"—but, oh, the difference in the tunes which love playeth, thereon!

Behold when a damsel first meeteth a man, she saith in her heart, "I wonder if he will find me pleasing!"

But a man saith: "I wonder if I shall find her amusing!"

A woman remembereth every look in a man's eyes and every word of his lips. But a man remembereth only the emotions where-with a woman's eyes have inspired him.

A woman plucketh the leaves from a daisy to discover if she is loved or not. But a man plucketh the leaves from a daisy to discover whether or not he is in love.

A damsel carryeth a man's letter next to her heart by day, placeth it under her pillow by night, and answereth it with joy.

But a man droppeth a woman's letter in his pocket, forgetteth its existence, until he chanceth his coat, and answereth it with pain and groanings.

A woman lieth awake and dreameth for hours of last night's kiss—but a man dreameth only of tomorrow night's kiss.

A woman saith: "I love thee—perhaps," and she meaneth: "I adore thee!"

But when a man saith: "I adore thee," he meaneth: "I love thee a little—perhaps."

When love endeth, a woman sigheth: "Alas, I am blighted and sick at heart!" But a man saith, "Thank heaven, I am CURED!"

A woman presseth a dead love away, as a flower, in the book of her memory. But a man burieth his dead loves deep, and hasteneth to plant fresh flowers upon their graves.

In a woman's heart there is somewhere a secret shrine for every man whom she hath loved, and a cozy-corner for every man who hath loved her.

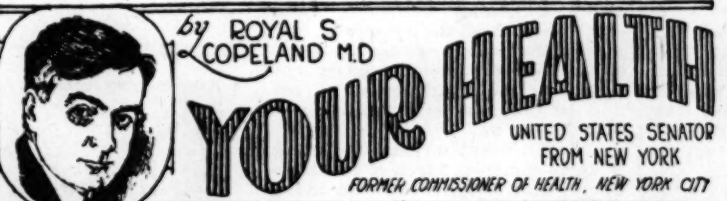

But a man's heart is always newly-furnished, and he hath no room therein for antiques and junk.

For, verily, verily, a woman liveth in her yesterdays and her tomorrows, but a man liveth only in TODAY. And "the only woman" in his life is the girl of the moment!

Yea, even while they look into each other's eyes, and vow eternal love and "understanding," each seeth a different vision, and gazeth at a perfect stranger!

HOW DO YOU TREAT A SICK BABY?

The other day I drove past a fine home in the country and observed several children at play about the attractive grounds.

"The parents of those nice kiddies never keep a sick child in bed if the youngster wants to get up and play."

That is startling, isn't it? We have been brought up to believe that everybody who is sick, certainly if fever is present, should be kept in bed.

Perhaps I am old-fashioned, for I hold to the popular idea that acutely sick persons should be kept quiet.

I do think, however, that the domestic use of the thermometer is overdue. Just because the baby cries a bit or complains, is no reason for rushing after the thermometer. And yet, the presence of fever is a warning that something is wrong.

If the temperature is high your doctor's advice is necessary. While waiting for him it is well to put the child in bed.

The bedroom should be quiet. Even little children are sensitive to noise and bright lights. If they are ill they require the same cool, quiet, shaded room that is so acceptable to a grown-up when he is sick.

Some children are nervous and easily upset. To avoid the disturbance due to excitement, it is well to exclude visitors, the other children of the family and the neighbors.

The bed should be made smooth and comfortable. The pillow ought to be shaken up now and then and turned over to give the hot cheek a fresh and cool resting place.

Above all else don't smother the child with heavy and hot bedclothing. Light covering will be sufficient—perhaps the sheet will be quite enough.

Keep the bed spotlessly clean by making frequent changes of the linen. If the child is sick a long time make use of a second bed to "change off." It is a comfort to get into a new bed with the bumps in new places.

Do you give your child all the water he wants? Or do you hold to the worn-out and absurd notion that water is bad for sick folks? If you let your child have all the water he wants, he will be all the better for it.

Of course there are certain stomach disorders, associated with vomiting, where fluids must be limited. In fevers from ordinary causes, however, water is good for a sick child. If you have ever suffered from thirst you know what it means to go without water. It is torture to a child not to have it.

So, when your baby is ill, I beg of you to give him moderate quantities of water. Don't give it in a titile of water.

Paris women are now wearing glass bracelets, but because of their being easily broken they are not likely to become popular.

Faint Heart

LONG walks in the Summer sunshine, through the cool, shady woods, with the little sunbeams dancing through the leaves, kissing them softly and running shyly away! Finding wonderful gay, singing brooks, with brave stones trying to stop their progress, but the laughing waters run around them in little frothy swirls and dance merrily onward.

Carefully she picks her way over the slippery stones with little screams of merriment and fear, while he, wishing that he had the courage and then—all the while—to pick her up and carry her to the rough places and save her little feet the hard stones—follows disconsolately, vainly, alone to carry her from all the hard places.

Faint heart! he will have sufficient courage and then—all the while—

HOUSEHOLD SUGGESTIONS

Dressmaking in the Heat.

When fitting a delicate dress on a person on a warm day, temporary dress shields, made of several folds of tissue paper, may be cut to shape and pinned in the sleeves. This will prevent perspiration stains from ruining the new frock before it is worn.

On the Picnic.

Paraffin drinking cups make splendid salad holders for the picnic. They may be lined with lettuce and then filled with the salad. Oiled paper may then be slipped over the top and held in place with a rubber band. The salad is already served and each person receives a most attractive and welcome little surprise.

Worth Thinking About.

Don't accumulate rubbish. Wipe out the bathtub with kerosene and make it shine. Old nightgowns are splendid covers to protect one's best frocks while hanging in the closet. Never allow clothes to become so out of press that the first creases are gone. They will never look new again, even after pressing.

Cut hubby's discarded collars into pieces the size of a tag and punch a hole in one corner for a strong cord. They will stand the hard usage in transportation better than the ordinary tags will.

HOME-MAKING HINTS

By WANDA BARTON

Keeping the Male Wardrobe in Order.

KEEPING the wardrobe of your men folk in order is a woman's job and an economic point in the family budget. Many women won't agree with this statement, but the writer, who has cared for the wardrobes of father, husband and son, knows whereof she speaks.

Now, in caring for the clothing the suit should be well brushed, cuffs of trousers turned up and brushed, pockets brushed out, the side of the collar opened and the suit is ready for pressing. Trousers and vest are easily pressed at home. The coat, unless one is an expert, had better be sent to a nearby tailor shop. If a suit is to be laid away for a few weeks, have it well pressed before doing up in moth paper or newspaper, as that kills the moth eggs that have been laid in the material when it hung exposed in the closet. Buttons should be tightened occasionally, and repairing done very promptly.

If the trousers seat wears thin it may be preserved by having the tailor put in a cambric "stay" that lengthens its life very perceptibly. Should an accident happen beyond home aids, there are places where an expert weaves in a piece of cloth and it is almost impossible to tell where the work was done, and the price is not excessive.

Shirts today are so reasonable in price that it only pays to make the smallest repairs on them. The various shirt hospitals put in new neckbands and cuffs very cheaply. The laundry is hard on shirts, so a large stock, used carefully in rotation, is the best plan.

Neckties are another business for herself in Philadelphia. Mrs. Ellizabeth Finnerty, who is a business for herself in Philadelphia, has begun court proceedings to have her husband enjoined from opening the tie and shirt stores in the city.

The Faint House

Remember last winter when your teeth rattled like beads dressed for a trip to the furnace? Remember the wood and shook grates in an old house?

Don't go there now. With ST. LOUIS BY-PRODUCT you can have a continuous fire, smoldering steadily by regulating the dampers. Clean, soot, or dirt and with few ashes. It is so easy to control.

We will send you to inspect your furnace and advise the necessary repairs. After the delivery of your order, show you how to burn it satisfactorily. This service is Free.

THE REVUE.

THE Pampus Bull and Harry Wills. Tomorrow will provide the thrills And, fistic fans are making plans To see a noble battle. The gentleman from Argentine Is eating meat and feeling mean And should he land his good right hand The Panther's teeth will rattle.

The Panther, on the other hand, Is feeling quite serene and bland And doesn't fear the sequel. His arms are long, albeit strong And with his punch there's nothing wrong. While in a clinch it is a cinch He hasn't any equal.

Our flyers still are on their way, They lit in Boston, U. S. A., And people there threw hats in air

And made the welkin rattle. From there our heroes pulled their freight

To cross the country state by state And fly and fly till bye and bye They'll finish in Seattle.

SHOOT 'EM UP.

No, Romero, there is no closed season on clay pigeons.

There is no danger of clay pigeons ever becoming extinct as long as the clay holds out.

Ever eat a clay-pigeon pie? Tastes a good deal like a mud pie, they tell us.

"Gangster Arrested With Loaded Shotgun." Maybe he didn't know it was loaded.

Seven U. S. Senators are said to be klansmen. It's hard to tell a senatorial toga from a bed sheet these days.

"Threatens to Sue Dempsey for Million." They're determined to make Jack fight either in court or in the ring.

However, in a legal battle the adviser gets all the money and the glory.

President Coolidge still retains his card in the Farmers' Union, but as he only pitches hay for the pictures, it doesn't mean anything.

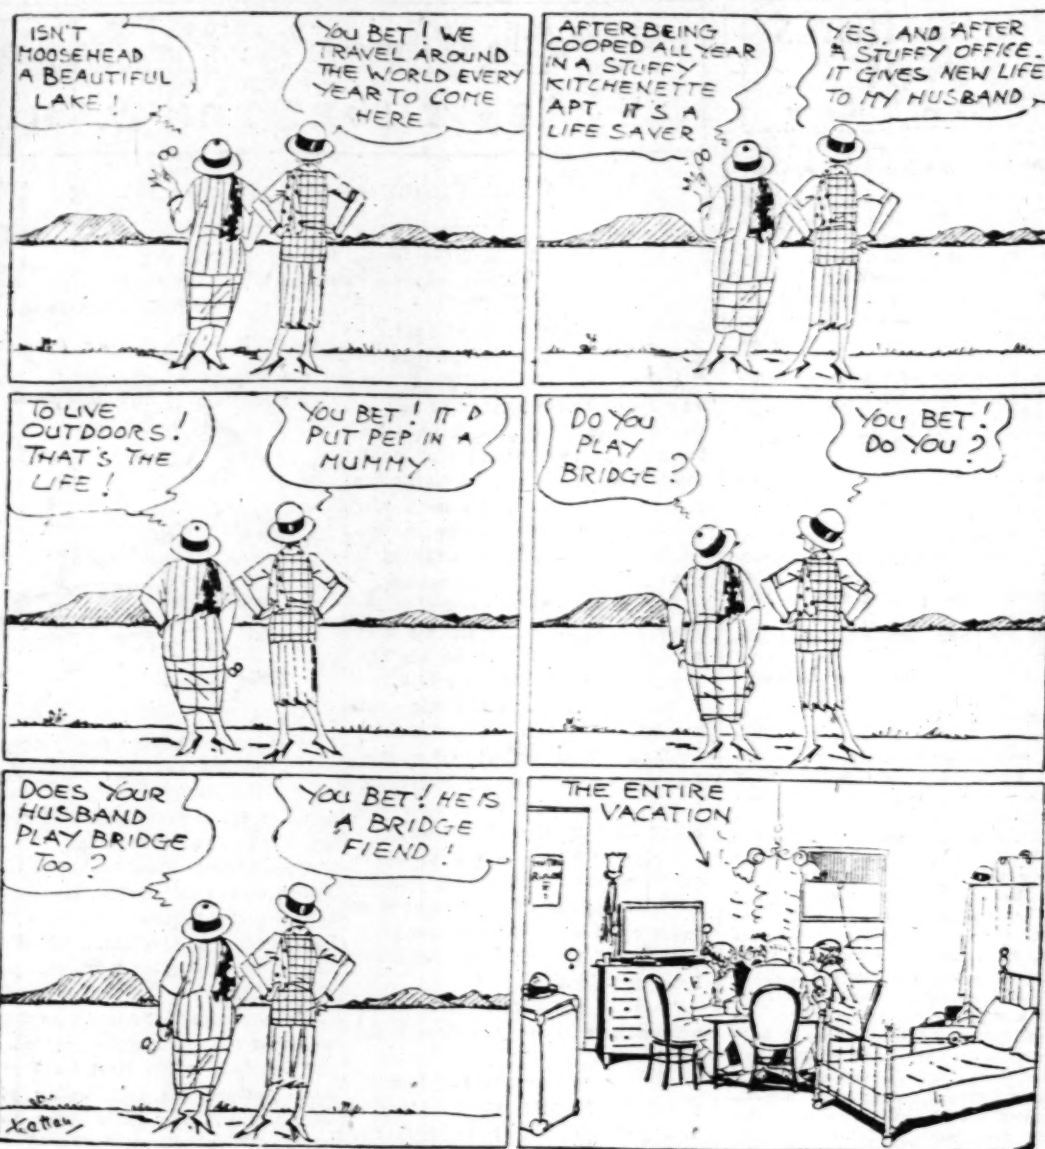

In trying to qualify as an expert farmer, Calvin's going to have a hard row to hoe.

The old sap-bucket may get him the maple-sugar vote of Vermont, but the beet sugar vote is liable to swamp him.

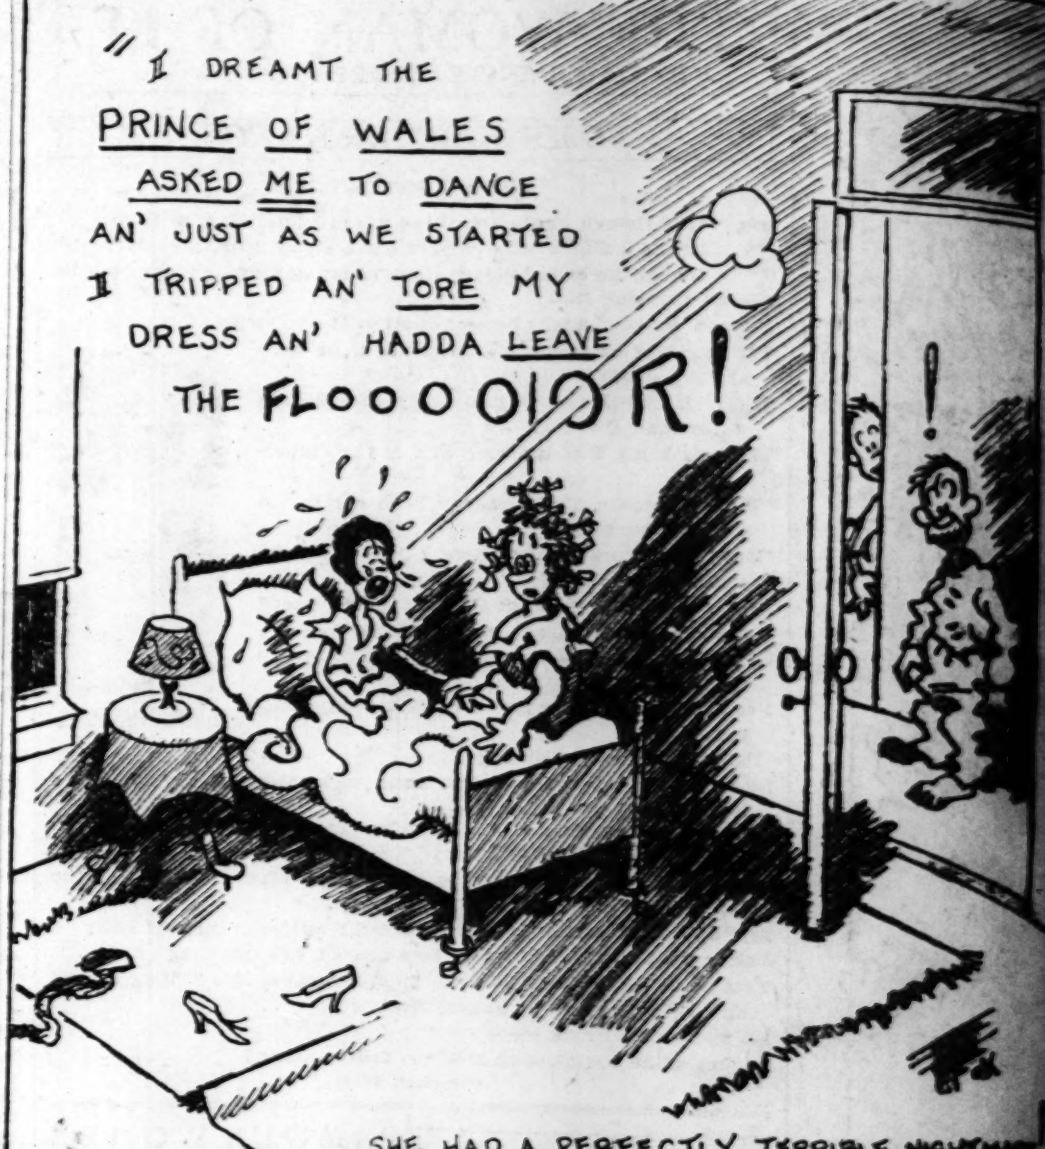

IMPORTANT IF TRUE. "St. Louis Aldermen Like Philadelphia's Elevated System?" How do you like the scrapple, boys?

BARRETT SUES TO OUST STANDARD OIL FROM STATE

Film Motion in Supreme Court Charging Restraint of Trade Against Company.

OTHER COMPANIES WILL ALSO BE SUED

Statement That Contracts Were Entered Into With Firms "to Destroy Competition."

By the Jefferson City Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, Sept. 11.—

Attorney-General Barrett today induced a motion to oust the Standard Oil Co. of Indiana from business in Missouri, by filing in Supreme Court a motion asking the court to set aside an order it issued June 29, 1912, suspending a writ of ouster ordered against the Standard of Indiana on March 3, 1909.

The 1912 ouster was suspended during good behavior of the company and Attorney-General Barrett's motion charges the Standard of Indiana with entering into agreements in restraint of trade.

To Sued Other Companies.

The Attorney-General stated proceedings would be filed against several other companies operating in Missouri, which had entered into alleged illegal contracts with the Standard Oil Co. of Indiana, but did not indicate what companies
